

This is the final issue of the WV Division of Corrections (WVDOC) newsletter. On July 1, 2018, the WVDOC consolidated with WV Regional Jail and Correctional Facility Authority and WV Juvenile Services to form the new agency, WV Division of Corrections and Rehabilitation (WVDCR).

The WVDOC Employee of the Year Ceremony was held this year on Thursday, May 31, 2018, at the WVDMAPS Professional Development Center in Glenville, WV. Huttonsville Correctional Center's (HCC) Chaplain Norman Hawkins was selected as the agency's Employee of the Year for 2017.

Chaplain Hawkins is part of a team of employees that provides religious services to approximately 1,183 inmates at Huttonsville Correctional Center. He assists inmates concerning their spiritual needs and also counsels inmates as needed when a personal or family crisis should arise. Chaplain Hawkins is an extremely positive person and his guidance and support has been invaluable to his fellow staff members. He is an in-house counselor to his peers, always providing support and encouragement. He gives sweet treats to his co-workers allowing him to impact their day with his kindness and a positive attitude. He has devoted many of his off hours to meeting with employees who are in need of guidance in their personal lives.

Chaplain Norman Hawkins with HCC Warden, Mike Martin.

Chaplain Hawkins volunteered to work three hundred and eighty-six hours of overtime to assist with security posts within the facility in a six-month period. His efforts have not only assisted in enhancing the security of the institution but has also assisted his fellow employees by ensuring security posts are covered and Correctional Officers are afforded lunch breaks. All of his voluntary overtime has been worked on the evening and midnight shifts. Due to the extreme staff shortages, Chaplain Hawkins has dedicated himself to his fellow employees and has worked over sixteen hours on a few occasions to ensure lunch breaks were completed. On these occasions, the Shift Commander has had to advise him that he had exceeded sixteen hours, and he needed to go home. Chaplain Hawkins is an asset to Huttonsville Correctional Center and to the West Virginia Division of Corrections and is most deserving of this award.

We congratulate Chaplain Hawkins and all of the facility Employee of the Year Selections!

WV Announces Leadership for Consolidated Corrections

CHARLESTON, W.Va. – West Virginia has assembled a top-notch team steeped in public service to lead the state's unified prison, regional jail and juvenile justice systems, Military Affairs and Public Safety Secretary Jeff Sandy announced Monday.

The Division of Corrections and Rehabilitation results from the consolidation legislation (House Bill 4338) that became law on July 1. This sweeping modernization and streamlining of corrections in the Mountain State also created the companion Division of Administrative Services. Corrections and Rehabilitation includes separate bureaus of Prisons and Jails, Community Corrections, and Juvenile Services. It replaces the Division of Corrections, Regional Jail and Correctional Facility Authority, and Division of Juvenile Services.

Governor Justice appointed Corrections Commissioner Betsy Jividen to serve as commissioner of Corrections and Rehabilitation. Jividen was a career federal prosecutor in the U.S. Northern District of West Virginia before Governor Justice selected her to oversee Corrections in January. During her four decades of federal service, Jividen represented the Federal Bureau of Prisons and also focused on rehabilitation and reentry programs aimed at reducing recidivism and ensuring public safety.

"Commissioner Jividen has just been outstanding," Governor Justice said. "With her rock-solid credentials, she is the ideal choice to ensure the success of this consolidation."

As for Jividen's team at Corrections and Rehabilitation:

- Deputy Commissioner, Field Services, Paul Simmons started at Corrections more than 30 years ago as a correctional officer. He has held numerous leadership posts since, including most recently as acting deputy corrections commissioner. Simmons helps Commissioner Jividen oversee the bureaus that consolidate the three correctional agencies as well as their health care, classification and security services.
- Deputy Commissioner, Executive Services, Mike Coleman traces his career in corrections back more than 30 years to his post as a correctional officer at the former West Virginia Penitentiary in Moundsville. A veteran leader at Corrections, his leadership positions have included deputy director of correctional operations for Secretary Sandy and deputy corrections commissioner. Coleman's duties include guiding the implementation of House Bill 4338, which has a deadline of July 1, 2019.
- Assistant Commissioner, Bureau of Prisons and Jails, Marvin Plumley is another Corrections veteran. Plumley most recently has been senior director of compliance and audits. He previously served as warden of the Huttonsville Correctional Center and deputy warden of the Mount Olive Correctional Complex.
- Assistant Commissioner, Bureau of Community Corrections, Anne Thomas was most recently acting chief of staff at Corrections. She began her career at Corrections in 1999, and her rise through the ranks included tenure as warden of the Lakin Correctional Center.
- Assistant Commissioner, Bureau of Juvenile Services, William Marshall had been director of the Division of Juvenile Services since October 2017. He previously headed the DMAPS Investigations office, and joined Secretary Sandy's leadership team following a distinguished career with the State Police.
- Assistant Commissioner, Training and Staff Development, Scott Patterson began his career with Corrections as an intern at the training academy in 1992. In July 2007, he took a two-year assignment from the U.S. Department of Justice in Iraq to help rebuild its corrections system in accordance with international standards. He returned to West Virginia in 2010 and to DMAPS the following year. He most recently was acting assistant corrections commissioner for operations.
- Assistant Commissioner, Intergovernmental Affairs, David Farmer had been executive director of the Regional Jail Authority. He had served at RJA since February 2002 and had headed that agency since June 2015. Farmer's oversight includes victim services and carrying out the provisions of West Virginia's landmark Justice Reinvestment Initiative reforms.
- Assistant Commissioner, Inspector General, Gary Johnson joins DMAPS after serving as administrative director for the W.Va. Supreme Court of Appeals since January 2017. He was previously a Nicholas County Circuit judge for nearly a quarter-century. His duties include internal investigations and audits as well as ensuring compliance with all state and federal standards. Secretary Sandy has also enlisted him to help carry out inmate drug rehabilitation initiatives that could yield substantial savings from reduced incarcerations.

"As Cabinet secretary I have pledged to make DMAPS more efficient, and I can think of no better person to help me achieve my goals and the goals of our governor and legislators than him," Secretary Sandy said.

To herald the correctional consolidation bill becoming law, Secretary Sandy is holding a ribbon-cutting ceremony for the new Division of Administrative Services offices at 1201 Greenbrier St. in Charleston today, Monday, July 2, at noon. Governor Justice Chief of Staff Mike Hall is to take part in the ceremony along with legislative leaders who supported the passage of House Bill 4338.

Parole Services:

Hundreds of federal, state and local officials teamed up on April 17-18, 2018, on what's being described as a "major takedown" of those trafficking heroin and fentanyl in the Huntington, West Virginia area. More than 200 federal, state and local law enforcement officers took part in the take-down effort, including Huntington Police, Drug Enforcement Administration, Cabell and Wayne county sheriffs and Marshall University police. The West Virginia National Guard also provided personnel to support the operation.

The arrests they made are a result of Project Huntington, in response to the growing opioid epidemic and an increase of violent crime. Before the takedown, more than 760 grams of suspected heroin, 167 grams of suspected cocaine and more than 450 grams of fentanyl, an opioid used as part of anesthesia to prevent post-surgery pain, had already been seized as part of Project Huntington.

Parole Officer Brian Templeton, and Special Deputy US Marshals Dave Toler, Judy Fitzgerald and Southern District Supervisor Doug Workman participated in the operation on April 17-18, 2018.

Lakin Correctional Center:

Eight inmates graduated as Certified Yoga Instructors on Monday, May 7, 2018, at Lakin Correctional Center (LCC). Commissioner Betsy Jividen was in attendance for this event. Pictured above are Laotong Yoga Co-Directors Barbara Steinke and Sue Julian with a LCC graduate.

Pruntytown Correctional Center: On May 22, 2018, Institutional Training Officer, Sgt. Solak conducted an onsite training preparing the Barbour County Division of Highways for the start up of their Inmate Road Crew on June 4, 2018. (Photos of the training below)

Mount Olive Correctional Complex: On March 24, 2018, a Pratt Volunteer Fire Department truck was responding to a triple fatality on the West Virginia Turnpike, when the truck lost control and flipped against a rock wall. Two Pratt Volunteer firefighters were killed and three injured responding to the crash. Mt. Olive Correctional Complex (MOCC) Arts/Crafts Supervisor Dannette Nicholson painted a picture for the Fallen Pratt Firefighters. The frame was made by inmates in the Arts/Crafts Program and the brass plates were engraved and donated by Chad Taylor in MOCC Correctional Industries. Photo's below.

Northern Correctional Center:

On April 21, 2018, COII Cedric Robinson, Lt. Jody Matthews, Brandy Miller, Associate Warden of Programs, OAIH Christine Forrester, Sgt. Thomas McCarthy, COII Heather Timmins, and Sgt. Ryan Hill participated in the CASA Superhero 5k. COII Cedric Robinson came in 1st place for male runners and 1st place overall.

WV CASA is an important and wonderful organization, and it is important to share their mission/purpose. Here is an overview: a Court Appointed Special Advocate (CASA) is a volunteer that provides a voice for abused and neglected children who find themselves in the court system. Volunteer advocates offer judges and officials the critical information they need to ensure each child's rights and needs are being attended to while in foster care. Often a CASA volunteer is the only constant adult presence in a child's life.

The West Virginia CASA Association partners with counties in West Virginia to develop programs to create a network of these CASA volunteers. We work to assist and strengthen the CASA programs established throughout West Virginia by offering technical assistance, training, public awareness activities, research and resource development to create a quality volunteer advocacy network. Our goal is to engage and empower enough volunteers to give a voice to every abused and neglected child in the West Virginia court system.
