Message from the Secretary of MAPS

Another year of unwavering success for the Department of Military Affairs and Public Safety and the Division of Corrections, and I must say it has not been without some unique and interesting challenges.

The state faces an ever increasing prison population and little space to accommodate the growing numbers. The forecasted numbers have been right on target - up to and including this year - and forecasts indicate more inmates than the state's current capacity.

To simply build more prisons, albeit an option, is costly and does not adequately address the issue. As a state, we cannot only look to build our way out of the problem; we must focus on alternative measures and creative applications to the growing inmate population.

The growing inmate population also places increasing demands on DOC staff as well. We must continue to ensure employees have everything necessary to accomplish their tasks, while recognizing and rewarding the hard work and diligence in performance of the DOC mission. The drive, devotion and dedication by DOC staff are evident and I am proud of their efforts as they close the books on another successful and safe year.

My focus as Cabinet Secretary is to ensure Commissioner Rubenstein has the necessary tools to safely, effectively and efficiently operate the state's 14 correctional facilities. To do this, we must consider all possible options.

I look forward to the coming year; meeting the tremendous challenges of providing efficient and cost-effective leadership while striving to provide an equal balance of control and treatment of the State's incarcerated population.

James W. Spears
Cabinet Secretary
West Virginia Department of Military Affairs and Public Safety

Message from the Commissioner

I am pleased to provide this Annual Report on behalf of the employees of the West Virginia Division of Corrections.

Governor Joe Manchin III has our division along with the other state agencies on an exciting journey, inspiring staff with his energy and focus on efficiency, customer service and team strategies for collaboration of efforts.

The WVDOC has completed many projects to include a 120-bed addition at the Lakin Correctional Facility for Women, 200-bed addition at the Huttonsville Correctional Center, installation of a fire alarm system at the Pruntytown Correctional Center to bring this facility up to appropriate standards and is also beginning this process at the Denmark Correctional Center. Our IMIS system is up and running and we continue to work towards making this an ideal system for all of our staff, so we can operate in the most efficient manner possible.

Our Victim Services has been recognized as a national leader and we received the coveted Purple Ribbon Award for our efforts in putting a stop to domestic violence. The WVDOC's Victim Services Manager, Sandi Jaynes, has been recognized on the national level as the recipient of the Joe Kegans Award for Victim Services in Probation or Parole. This is truly a testament to all of our staff and our commitment to the victims of crime.

We were able to conduct an Employee Survey and provide all of our staff an opportunity to share their thoughts. I want all of our staff to know they have a voice and it will be heard.

I, along with Governor Manchin and Cabinet Secretary Spears, recognize and appreciate the dedicated, talented and enthusiastic employees of the West Virginia Division of Corrections. I am honored to work with each and every one of them. I look forward to next year as we re-commit ourselves to the mission and goals created by DOC staff.

Jim Rubenstein,
Commissioner
West Virginia Division of Corrections

Vision and Mission Statement

VISION

The vision of the West Virginia Division of Corrections is to be recognized as an innovative leader in providing quality correctional services.

MISSION

The Mission of the West Virginia Division of Corrections is to enhance public safety by providing a safe, secure, humane correctional system, including an effective community supervision program, opportunities to prepare for successful reentry, and sensitivity and responsiveness to victims of crime.

CORE VALUES

- Our highest priority is the protection of the public, staff and offenders through the highest degree of professional performance at all times.
- Our integrity is above reproach, as we are accountable to the public, staff and offenders alike.
- We correct offender behavior first and foremost by modeling appropriate behavior.
- We provide and encourage staff to seek out opportunities that develop or enhance professional knowledge, skills and abilities.
- We treat all employees, the public, and offenders with fairness, honesty, consideration and dignity while recognizing diversity.
- We empower our employees to effectively perform their duties to the best of their abilities through training, trust and teamwork.
- We take pride in maintaining the quality of our organization through performance, appearance, and education.
- We embrace professional service over personal desire and provide correctional services, as appropriate, which will positively affect offender management and reentry.
- We are sensitive to the needs of crime victims and their families and aid them in personal empowerment.
- We exhibit the highest degree of ethical behavior, professional excellence, quality, and competence in all that we do.
- We resolve all situations, in which the course of action is in doubt, by erring on the side of security and public safety.

Strategic Goals

In late 2005, WVDOC decided to consolidate its many initiatives, objectives, and projects into five “Strategic Goals,” that would guide the agency’s priorities throughout the next few years. In order, the WVDOC’s five Strategic Goals are as follows:

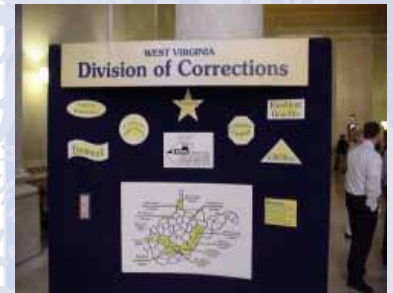

1. Overcrowding: The most important goal for the Division is to address and control prison overcrowding to the extent possible. This includes a variety of issues such as construction, movement, classification and others.

2. Human Resources Improvements: The Division’s second priority is to investigate methods for which to improve employee retention, facility/unit staffing, increase recruitment efforts, and improve employee compensation.

3. Capitol Improvements: The third strategic goal for the agency is to begin a series of capitol improvement efforts, including: new Central Office, new WV Corrections Academy, and renovations to existing buildings in order to meet fire safety and other standards.

4. Reentry: The fourth priority for Corrections is to continue to develop, implement, and perform programs and methods designed to improve an offender’s chances of successfully reentering society.

5. Information Technology Improvements: The fifth strategic goal of the agency is to begin a program of improvements to the division’s existing information technology resources. This includes staffing level improvements, budget/funding acquisition, customer service, and functionality/equipment concerns.

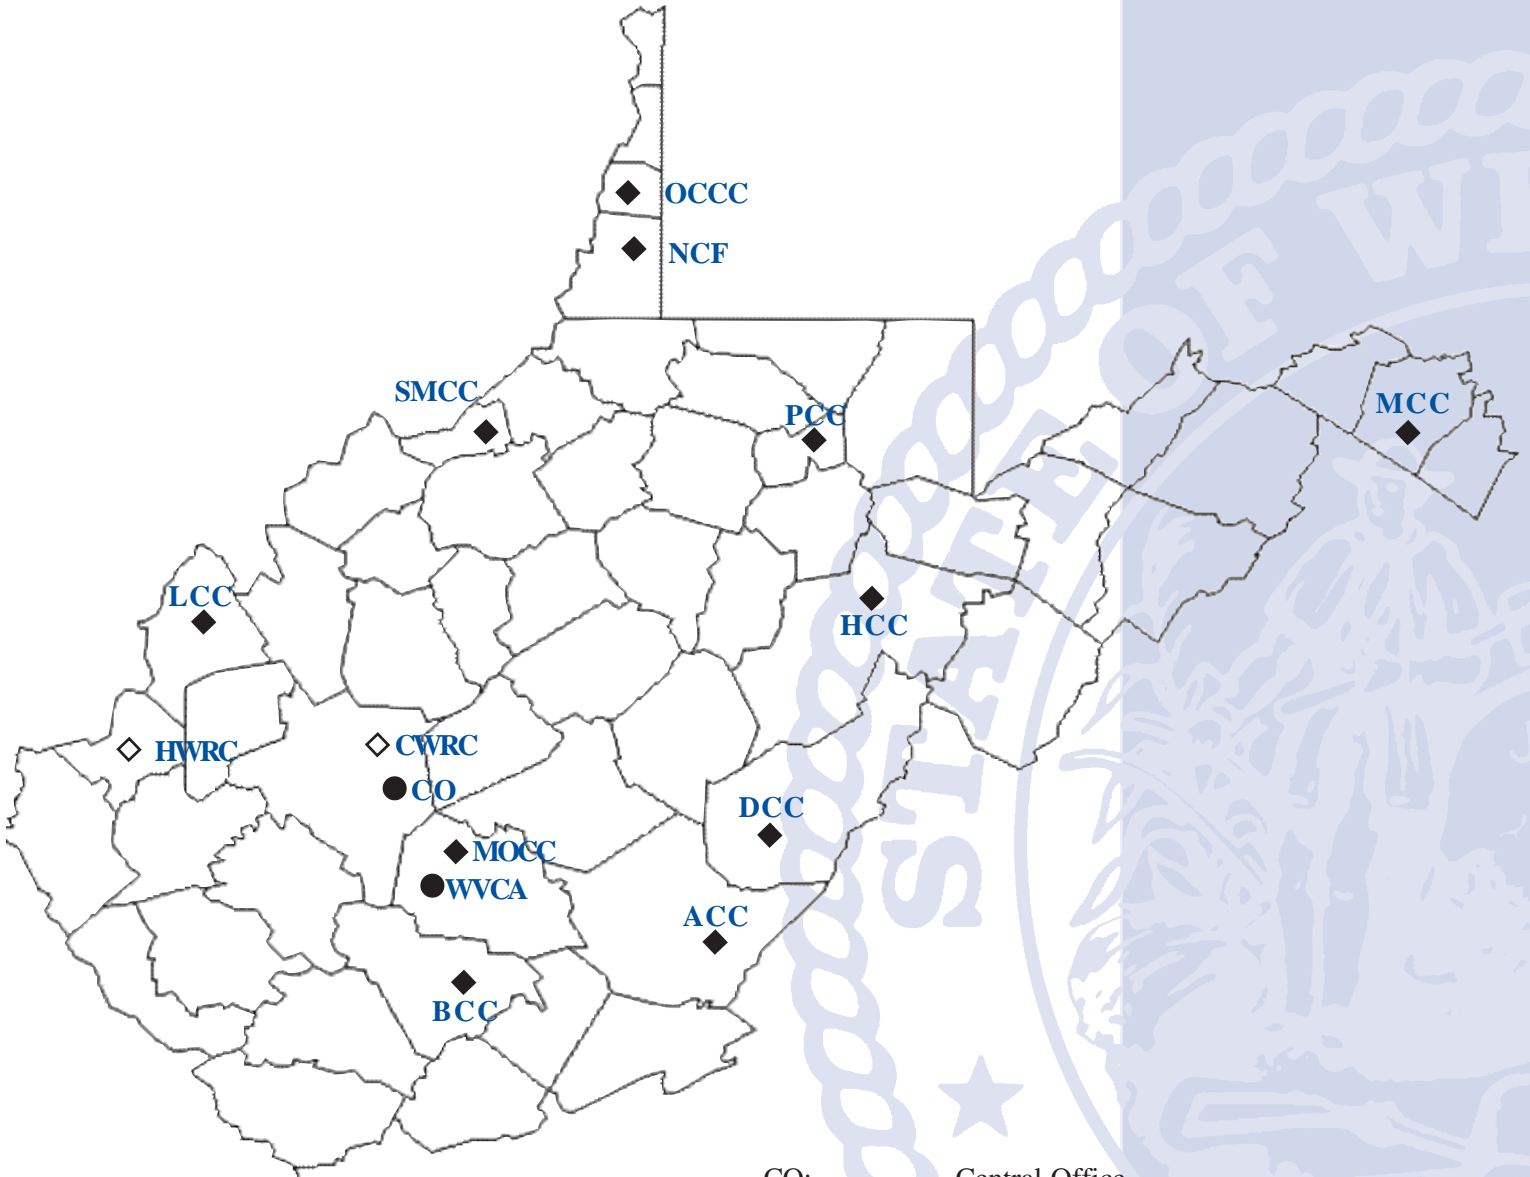

Major Accomplishments

- After the completion of Phase One of the Inmate Management Information System (IMIS), in February 2005, development and improvements on the system continued throughout the following fiscal year. These updates included expanded functionality for programs and testing as well as many smaller fixes and improvements.
- In October 2005, a long awaited ceremony was held at the newly renovated Martinsburg Correctional Center, to mark the beginning of the new facility.
- During this fiscal year Parole Services secured $336,000 for much needed improvements in salaries, equipment, supervision and treatment needs. All Parole Officers received new computers and every Officer received a cell phone to assist with Officer safety.
- A new computer training lab was established at the West Virginia Corrections Training Academy.
- The Division began administering psychological testing to Division of Correction Inmates in the Regional Jails, thus speeding up the movement process.
- West Virginia was one of three states across the nation selected to participate in statewide reentry training, funded through the United States Bureau of Justice Assistance.
- The Canine Training Center acquired a Researcher License from the United States Department of Justice Drug and Enforcement Agency.
- The WVDOC's Victim Services Manager, Sandi Jaynes, has been recognized on the national level as the recipient of the Joe Kegans Award for Victim Services in Probation or Parole. This is truly a testament to all of our staff and our commitment to the victims of crime.

Correctional programming is an important component to incarceration in West Virginia. Research indicates that a significant portion of the offender population within state prisons will one day be released to live in communities. Correctional interventions that couple supervision with treatment services have been found to be the most meaningful in reducing the likelihood of future victimization and the return of prisoners to correctional facilities (Washington State Institute for Public Policy, 2006). Since 2002, the WV Division of Corrections has strived to develop programs and interventions that meet “best” and “evidence-based” practices and can be sustained with limited resources and funding.

The Office of the Director of Programs is responsible for providing leadership in four major areas within the Division of Corrections: the Unit Management System, Grant Management, Offender Programs & Services, and the WV Reentry Initiative.

During Fiscal Year 2006, the Division of Corrections maintained $12,890,732.00 in federal grant funds. These funds were used for various needs throughout the division, such as: Construction & renovation at SMCC, maintenance of substance abuse treatment programs, support for vocational & technical trade programs, Victim Services, Sex Offender Programs, Domestic Violence Programs, and Reentry Initiative.

During the fiscal year, the Center for Sex Offender Management provided statewide training for corrections, courts, law enforcement, and treatment providers in the management and reentry of sex offenders. Victim Safety Planning was provided as a part of the Reentry Initiative. Specialized training to staff in the amount of 416 hours was facilitated across the state and 7 DOC employees were certified as Criminal Justice Addiction Professionals. This state was one of three selected to participate in the Reentry Training funded through the U.S. Bureau of Justice Assistance and provided by the Center for Effective Public Policy in Washington DC.

A total of 150 additional residential substance abuse treatment beds were brought on line throughout the agency.

Information Technology

Carl Graves, Director

The Information Technology Department is responsible for the computer and network support of: Corrections Central Office, Office of Research and Planning, Training Academy, Correctional Industries, Parole Board (Outside Agency), Correctional Centers – (fourteen locations), and Parole Offices – (fifteen locations). The office maintains network equipment composed of 32 routers, 50 switches, 16 wireless access points, 500+ PC's and 100+ printers. This department supports 577 email accounts within Corrections and our website <http://www.wvf.state.wv.us/wvdoc>. The IT Department consists of the Director and six Information System Specialists/Coordinators.

The Division of Corrections Information Technology Department was able to move the IMIS (Inmate Management Information System) design process within the Division on June 1, 2006, by hiring an IMIS Programmer Analyst in-house to continue with the IMIS Phase I process enhancements and when complete, to begin Phase II of the IMIS program. This allowed Corrections to have 100 percent control of the IMIS process and to eliminate any future contract fees and greatly reduced maintenance costs that would have been required when entering Phase II.

A computer training room was established at the West Virginia Training Academy to help in the training of facility staff on the IMIS program. The training room was also planned to allow future training on Microsoft business software for Correctional staff.

An Intrusion Detection System was installed on the corrections network. This system protects our data servers and will allow the IT department to discover any outside intervention against our servers. This system will also log all server access and implement various warnings as needed.

The IT Department replaced all the computers in the WV Division of Corrections Parole Offices across the state.

The West Virginia Division of Corrections is committed to the promise that crime victims are to be treated with respect, dignity, and sensitivity. Therefore the Office of Victims Services was created in June 2001. A Victim Service Manager was selected and also a Victim Service Representative at each institution. Soon thereafter VINE (Automated Victim Information and Notification Everyday) was implemented. Victims may call 1-866-WV4-Vine to find custody status information on inmates in the Division of Corrections or to register to receive notification when an offender's status changes.

During this fiscal year, 13,952 victims registered to receive notification from VINE. Vine received 3,429 telephone inquiries about offenders or to register for telephone notifications and 12, 228 received telephone notification. West Virginia is the only state to have someone available 24/7 to answer victims' questions. 1,841 victims received direct services, which are broken down by crimes. The majority of victims who received direct services were victims of violent crime. There were 333 victims of homicide, 56 adult sexual assault, 276 child sexual assault, 72 domestic violence, 70 DUI/death, 44 robbery, 134 assault, 9 child physical abuse. 192 of these victims attended parole hearings. There were 655 victims of non-violent crimes who received direct services.

The Corrections Victim Advisory Committee awarded the "Commissioners Award of Excellence in Victim Services" to St. Mary's Correctional Center and Pruntytown Correctional Center for their outstanding contributions for National Crime Victim's Month and National Domestic Violence Month.

All facilities participated in the U.S. Attorney's Office, Southern District National Crime Victim Awareness Week "Operation Reach Out" Fair. They provided games and prizes along with cotton candy and snow cones for the children. Staff from Ohio County Correctional Center and Northern Correctional Center also participated in the U.S. Attorney's Office, Northern District Crime Victim Awareness Fair. Victims Day at the Legislature was held; representatives from all facilities participated, and several facilities displayed their projects that benefited victims.

The Central Records Office maintains files on all DOC inmates in DOC custody, DOC inmates in a Regional Jail, DOC contracted institutions, DOC inmates in Federal or another state's custody, DOC parolees both in and out of state, and probationers and parolees transferred in or out of West Virginia pursuant to the Interstate Compact. On June 30, 2006, the Central Records Office was maintaining approximately 8,250 active records.

As well as updating & maintaining all Division of Corrections records, this office is responsible for all interstate compact requests from other states as well as all compact cases to other states. During the fiscal year, 925 requests for transfer from other states were received with 588 being approved; 323 requests were sent to other states for WV Parolees requesting a transfer. On June 30, 2006, WV was supervising 976 offenders from other states.

Under WV State Law, DOC supervised parolees and probationers are required to pay a $40 per month supervision fee. The Central Office Records Department is responsible for the record keeping of such fees collected. For the 12 months of the past fiscal year, the fees collected amounted to $745,241.00.

The Extradition Coordinator handled 70 extraditions back to the WVDOC. This office also operates a WEAPON (NCIC) Terminal to enter wanted parole violators and run criminal checks on inmates and prospective employees.

On December 1, 2005, the Division of Corrections implemented a new time calculation method for calculating inmate discharge dates. The Division now uses a computer spreadsheet to make calculations. The system is explained in Policy Directive 151.02. Every inmate in the Division's custody had their discharge date re-calculated under the new system and all new inmates sentenced to the Division's custody was/is calculated under the new system. This department plays a "behind the scenes" role within the DOC but is vital to the smooth operation of the Division.

The main responsibility of this office is to monitor bed availability within the Division of Corrections and coordinate movement to fill these beds. This includes movement of all inmates, both male and female, sentenced for Diagnostic Evaluation, Technical and Felony Parole Violators, Anthony Center Young Adults, and those sentenced to the custody of the WV Division of Corrections. This office monitors bed availability in the intake centers and coordinates the movement of inmates from the regional and county jails to the intake centers in the most expeditious manner without compromising public or institutional security. Issues such as sentencing orders, security issues, medical or mental health concerns, parole eligibility dates and transportation coordination factor into the movement of inmates.

Another responsibility is to coordinate movement within Division of Corrections facilities. Transfers between institutions, transfers to work release, disciplinary moves, medical or mental health moves, separation issues, Interstate Compact transfers, humanitarian visits (deathbed and funeral), and court ordered transports are examples of some of the moves that are coordinated through this office.

The Movement Coordinator also interacts with inmate families, regional and county jails, attorneys, probation and parole officers, WV Parole Board, all Division of Corrections institutions, and also responds to inmate letters regarding movement issues. Ms. Albury also serves on committees that impact on movement, for example classification issues.

During the fiscal year this office coordinated 2,406 admissions to Division of Corrections facilities. Inmates were also moved into the newly operational Martinsburg Correctional Center that became the Intake/Classification Unit for the Division of Corrections. This office also coordinated the movement of inmates to the 332 bed newly renovated Stevens Correctional Center.

The Division of Corrections began administering psychological testing to inmates in the regional jails, speeding up the movement process. Approximately 500 jail inmates were tested and classified during this fiscal year. This major endeavor was facilitated through this office.

The Division of Corrections Hearing Examiner holds all Preliminary Parole Violation Hearings statewide. Decisions at these hearings are made on whether or not a Parole Officer has enough evidence to detain a parolee in jail. Should probable cause be found, the case is forwarded to the Parole Board for revocation proceedings.

The Hearing Examiner, as the Commissioner's representative, conducts all third level grievance hearings throughout the Division of Corrections. If the grievant is not satisfied with the decision made at this level they may appeal to the State Employees Grievance Board. During the Fiscal Year the Level IV Grievance Board upheld 100% of the decisions made at Level III. This is the second year in a row that the Grievance Board has upheld all the Level III Decisions.

A total of 45 Level III Grievance Hearings were scheduled at the following locations:

- | | |
|------------------------------------|----|
| • Anthony Correctional Center | 9 |
| • Denmark Correctional Center | 2 |

129 Preliminary Parole Violation Hearings were scheduled. 40 were conducted, 79 waived, 8 clients were reinstated or held in abeyance by the Parole Officer, and 2 were handled by the Parole Board before the preliminary Hearing. The Hearing Examiner also conducts EEO Investigations as appointed by the Commissioner.

Contractual Services

Kate Lucas, Director

This office was created by Commissioner Rubenstein in June 2003, with the stated mission of consolidating and coordinating contracts throughout the Agency. The Division of Corrections contracts approximately twenty percent of its operational dollars annually. The major contracts include critical and potentially litigious inmate services such as the provision of medical and mental health care, dietary requirements, law libraries and telephone services. Additionally, agreements enable this department to maintain vital security systems and equipment in our facilities; provide electronic monitoring in the community; and to support our commitment to victims' services through the Victim's Information Notification Everyday system.

The major goals of this department are:

- To promote fiscal responsibility by identifying potential savings through contracting of goods and services.
- To eliminate duplication of effort and realize savings through consolidation agency wide.
- To educate and assist the Agency in the development of service proposals.
- To liaison with Agency personnel and vendors to create and enhance mutually beneficial partnerships.
- To ensure vendor accountability to the Agency and the State of West Virginia through contract monitoring.
- To educate and assist the Agency in the development of service proposals.
- To liaison with Agency personnel and vendors to create and enhance mutually beneficial partnerships.

This fiscal year a contract was awarded to Keefe Commissary Network to provide offender commissary services for nine facilities thereby alleviating the Agency from staffing and operating a multi-million dollar retail business. This office initiated the combining of purchases of like commodities and services with the WV Regional Jail Authority and the Division of Juvenile Services therefore saving tax payer dollars. Contractual Services also coordinated with the Pharmaceutical Advocates with the goal of reducing the cost of medication for offenders.

The Corrections Investigation Division (CID) was created in February 2005, by Commissioner Rubenstein. Currently CID is staffed by a Director who reports directly to the Commissioner, and five investigators. The Corrections Investigation Division investigates all allegations of criminal and administrative misconduct occurring within DOC facilities. These investigations deal with a wide range of violations and inquiries, from background investigations, staff and inmate violations of policy, Computer Voice Stress examinations, to escapes, sexual assault, arson, drug trafficking, etc. CID Investigators also act as Division of Corrections liaisons to all local, state and federal law enforcement agencies. A joint investigation by local law enforcement resulted in an arrest and subsequent conviction of an individual on six counts of sexual assault.

Working closely with the United States Postal Inspector's Office and the Drug Force Administration, an investigation was brought to successful conclusion with five individuals entering guilty pleas in Federal Court. This investigation involved two DOC facilities and a staff member who was later arrested and sentenced for smuggling drugs into one of the DOC institutions.

Corrections Investigation Division Investigators attended the John Reid Course of Training on Interview and Interrogation that took place in Charleston. This class on interview and interrogation methods is highly respected and is used worldwide to assist law enforcement in obtaining information and confessions.

During this fiscal year the CID conducted 407 investigations.

West Virginia Correctional Industries was established in 1939, as a correctional program and a business entity. The purpose of Correctional Industries is to supply the needs of government, provide skills and training to inmates, and reduce inmate idleness and recidivism. Correctional Industries furnishes items to any government and/or non-profit organization in West Virginia.

Correctional Industries is a subdivision of the WV Division of Corrections and employs 47 civilians and 248 inmates. This department produces numerous product lines including the road signs that are seen traveling throughout WV as well as the license plates & validation stickers on our vehicles. This results in less tax dollars spent on the production of these items since inmate labor is used. This is also true with other products that are purchased by state government agencies and political subdivisions. The operation of WV Correctional Industries reduces inmate idleness in the institution also.

WV Correctional Industries had revenues of $6,220,549 and expenditures of $ 6,321,941 (on a cash basis) as of June 30, 2006. These figures were obtained from the State's Financial Information Management System.

Two significant occurrences that bear mentioning during this time period were the implementation of a Digital Store Front software program that enables our printing and copy customers to submit and track their work order requests via their own desktop computers and the introduction of new lines of office furniture.

WV Correctional Industries spent considerable time and resources planning expansion of its newest shop at the Lakin Correctional Center, due for completion in early fiscal 2007, and negotiating a service contract for the near future.

This fiscal year is viewed as a stable foundation for growth for the next fiscal year.

Parole Services

Delbert Harrison, Director

Parole Services is under the direction of Delbert Harrison. The state is divided into 2 districts. The Northern District is under the supervision of Lori Nohe, and Douglas Workman supervises the Southern District.

In the Northern District the offices are located in Wheeling, Ripley, Parkersburg, Buckhannon, Clarksburg, Martinsburg & Romney. The Southern District consists of offices in Charleston, Oak Hill, Beaver, Welch, Lewisburg, Princeton, Logan, & Huntington. Thirty-Seven (37) full time Parole Officers and 10 support staff are employed to supervise approximately 2178 parolees/probationers (Stats from WVDOC June 2006 Statistical Report) from all over the country as well as West Virginia Parolees.

During this fiscal, year Parole Services secured $336,000 for much needed improvements in salaries, equipment, supervision and treatment needs. All Parole Officers received new computers and every Officer received a cell phone to assist with Officer safety.

Parole Officers continue to conduct Reentry Supervision Details throughout the state after normal work hours. These After-Hours Supervision Details have been ongoing since 1998, however with the assistance of grant money, the office has been able to pay limited overtime to Parole Officers that participate in these details. Also certain Parole Officers continue to work with Federal Fugitive Task Forces on joint warrants. The US Marshals Service has deputized certain officers and these officers actively participate in this endeavor. Initially this started in the Southern District and has now progressed to the Northern District.

Parole Services recently implemented a graduated sanctions policy to deal with technical violations committed by parolees. Technical Assistance was received from the National Institute of Corrections.

In addition, Electronic Monitoring saved the taxpayers of WV $155,533 in jail fees this fiscal year.

The Office of Research and Planning is responsible for the collection and analysis of inmate and corrections information, as well as, the production of various reports and projects. The office routinely compiles and archives population statistics, commitment vs. release statistics, inmate and parolee demographic information, crime statistics, and more. Much of this information is detailed starting on page 46 of this report.

The office is also involved in numerous special projects such as information requests from Legislators, Inmate Population Forecasting, and specialized research publications. This Annual Report is one such publication, and the office is responsible for its production.

The office consists of: Brad Douglas, Director; Jared Bauer, Research Analyst; Karen Nichols, Research Assistant; and Della Huddleston, Secretary.

- One of the major successes of the office this year has been the routine publication of the Monthly Performance Indicator Reports. These reports are generated from an electronic data collection system and show monthly trends and institution breakdowns on important data items such as: disciplinary events, serious incidents, employee separations, commitment/releases, and more.
- The office also produced a detailed analysis of Correctional Officer turn over data that provided valuable insight into the agency's staffing difficulties.
- The office also released a report entitled "Parole Revocation Profile 2002-2005", which provides in-depth statistics and information into Parole Revocation Practices in the state.
- The continued development of IMIS (Inmate Management Information System) has allowed the office to have easier access to more and more correctional data.

West Virginia Corrections Academy

Randy Perdue, Director

The West Virginia Corrections Academy is located on the campus of West Virginia University Institute of Technology, Montgomery WV and provides training for sworn and civilian staff, including Parole Officers, employed by the West Virginia Division of Corrections. Upon initial hiring, each employee will go through Orientation training at their facility. Each Corrections Employee who works within a correctional facility is also required to complete a six week residential Basic Training Program. Each year after, employees must attend In-Service or Specialized training and complete 16 or 40 hours depending on job classification. For a copy of the Academy's Annual Training please visit us at <http://www.wvf.state.wv.us/wvdoc/wvca.htm>.

The Corrections Academy has continued to offer an up-to-date curriculum and promulgate positive change in the Division of Corrections. The West Virginia Corrections Academy curriculum has been recognized as being among the best in the nation. After a National Institute of Justice sponsored assessment of the Academy, West Virginia Corrections Academy was asked to play a role in an "invitation only" committee at Excelsior College in Albany, NY, to foster the skills of other agencies in the realm of curriculum development and implementation. All four phases of the training program have helped to accomplish these changes. In-Service and Specialized Training constitutes the largest percentage of training hours in a given year.

The WV Corrections Academy received an international award for its Defensive Tactics Program from the International Association of Corrections Training Personnel (IACTP). Several states are adopting our program and we expect many more. The Leadership Enrichment and Development course that was presented this year is another nationally recognized course. The course has been taught over the internet across the nation with assistance from the National Institute of Corrections. In addition to the nationally recognized curriculum, college credits have also been awarded. The curriculum has also been taught by the WVCA at WV University Institute of Technology's management classes.

The Anthony Correctional Center (ACC) is located in Neola, West Virginia on Route 92 in Greenbrier County, 15 miles north of White Sulphur Springs. The construction of a new facility was started in December 1996 and was completed and opened in August 1998. In addition, an existing dormitory was renovated to house 64 residents in a structured, intensive substance abuse program. At the present time, ACC has a capacity of up to 220. The overall program of the Anthony Correctional Center is within the guidelines set forth by the State Legislature in West Virginia Code, Chapter 25, Section 4, Article 4. This Code directs the Anthony Correctional Center Program to include at a minimum:

1. Work program
2. Educational program
3. Recreational program
4. Counseling program with an emphasis on substance abuse and life skills

Each resident is committed to ACC as a result of their sentencing judge suspending the original sentence of their specific crime and handing down a sentence of six months to two years at ACC. Those sentenced to ACC must have committed their crime on or after their 18th birthday and be sentenced prior to their 23rd birthday. This time frame is set by the State Legislature as outlined in State Code, Chapter 25, Section 4, Article 6. This applies to any crime other than an offense punishable by life sentence. If, in the opinion of the Warden, the offender proves to be an unfit person to remain in ACC, the offender is returned to the committing court to be dealt with further according to law. The Anthony Correctional Center also houses a minimal amount of adult female inmates.

During the FY 2006, the Anthony Correctional Center's Education Department successfully completed their CEA Audit and have been re-accredited. The Anthony Correctional Center's Medical Department has also successfully completed their NCCHC (National Commission on Correctional Health Care) Audit and been re-accredited.

Beckley Correctional Center

David Ballard, Administrator

Established in 1974 as Beckley Work Release Center, the facility was reorganized in 1997 and renamed Beckley Correctional Center (BCC). BCC is a minimum-security community correctional facility located on the grounds of Pinecrest State Hospital. BCC has a current capacity of 68 including both male and female inmates. Inmates assigned to BCC must be within 18 months of possible release.

On April 1, 2006, the DUI Program at BCC ceased to exist. In its place, a Residential Substance Abuse Treatment (RSAT) Unit was implemented. Without changing current classification and risk assessment guidelines, BCC began accepting eligible inmates into our RSAT Unit directly from Therapeutic Communities at other DOC facilities.

Under this model, RSAT Unit inmates participate in a semi-autonomous aftercare program that allows for a continuation in an inmate's life-style based on the principles of cognitive-behavioral interventions and relapse intervention learned in Therapeutic Community Programs. RSAT Unit inmates receive a minimum of ninety (90) days of structured, intensive treatment based upon a continuation of the goals, objectives, principles, values and concepts which are learned in Therapeutic Community Programs.

Additionally, BCC was designated to accept eligible inmates directly from DOC Intake Units. These inmates are integrated into either the RSAT Unit or Work Release Unit, depending on individual needs.

In maintaining the Division of Corrections' commitment to being fiscally responsible, BCC is proud to report that through more efficient operations and inmate collections, BCC was able to save taxpayers a grand total of $245,178.76 for Fiscal Year 2006.

In keeping with Governor Manchin's commitment to the citizens of West Virginia in maintaining a clean and beautiful state, BCC is proud to report that community service performed by inmates at this facility increased by 33% for this Fiscal Year.

The Charleston Work/ Study Release Center is located in the heart of downtown Charleston. On a daily basis, the Center houses up to 64 inmates. Not only does the center provide services for the inmates, it is the after-hours and weekend contact for Central Office. It receives and records Duty Officer Reports from all the DOC facilities, as well as reports from other law enforcement agencies from around the country. This year 829 Duty Officer Reports were recorded, compiled and forwarded to the appropriate Central Office Staff to determine proper action. Calls may range from minor disturbances at institutions, to calls from law enforcement agencies verifying warrants on parole absconders or escapees.

During the daytime hours, the days are filled with Community Service commitments (see pictures) built and improved playground for Child Enrichment Center and repaired bleachers at Little League Field), fleet maintenance and administrative duties. Inmate issues are always ongoing concerns. However, facility security is always first and foremost.

This fiscal year, in response to the Commissioner's request to accommodate more inmates, a dry storage room was moved to another location to create a new living space for four additional inmates.

Inmates at the Center paid out approximately $25,933.11 in court costs and restitution this year. $82,486.19 was collected from the inmates in rent. In addition approximately $15,000.00 in child support payments was collected.

In Fiscal Year 2006, over 52,968 miles were logged on CWRC and Central Office vehicles by non-CWRC personnel. CWRC maintains many of the fleet vehicles utilized by Central Office Staff. This includes fueling vehicles, scheduling vehicles and ensuring maintenance is kept up to date.

Denmar Correctional Center

Mark Williamson, Warden

The Denmar Correctional Center (DCC) is located near Hillsboro in Pocahontas County, West Virginia. Originally opened as a state hospital for treatment of tuberculosis patients, the hospital was later utilized as a long-term health care facility for the chronically ill. The Denmar Hospital was closed in 1990.

In February 1993, the Pocahontas County Commission conveyed the deed for the former Denmar Hospital to the West Virginia DOC for conversion to a state correctional institution. During the 1993 session of the West Virginia Legislature, funds were appropriated to the DOC for renovation of the facility now known as Denmar Correctional Center.

During the FY 2006, the DCC Inmate Work Crews accumulated approximately 26,550 hours of Community Service for the Division of Highways, Town of Marlinton, Watoga State Park, and Pocahontas County Department of Education. These duties included cutting brush, repairing roads, painting, cutting firewood, mowing, sidewalk/streetlight repair, and repairing underground water lines, drains and sewer lines. These inmate work crews provide a vast amount of needed services to the communities surrounding Denmar Correctional Center.

Renovations continue at Denmar. The maintenance Department continues to work toward improvements on the compound, including renovating existing structures so that they may be utilized. The exterior of Building 12 has been renovated and a new roof installed. Installation of a new roof on the Water Plant is planned for the near future. Security cameras have been purchased for the institution & visitation, and emergency lighting has been installed on all floors.

The Water Plant has purchased equipment to continually monitor the NTU's (National Turbidity Unit) in the water, mandated by the EPA with the authorization of the Federal Safe Drinking Water Act, as well as West Virginia State Code under Chapter 6, Article 13, and Section 6-1. We completed the process of adding on an additional room for a computer that was required to comply with the EPA standards.

Huntington Work/Study Release Center is a minimum-security facility that houses 66 inmates (12 females and 54 males) charged with nonviolent crimes, who have a year or less of their minimum sentence to serve before being interviewed by the Parole Board.

Huntington Work Release Center was established in October 1983 and began operation in February 1984. The three-story brick building is located in downtown Huntington, West Virginia. The first floor of the facility contains the control room, administrative offices, resident library, female dormitory, dining hall, and kitchen. The second floor houses four male dormitories and the third floor accommodates storage for filing and supplies.

Our facility helped make history when the Division of Corrections and the Bureau for Child Support Enforcement joined forces in the creation of a child support orientation project. The project consisted of a professional production of incarcerated inmates who are behind on child support obligations and their efforts to make payments while incarcerated. The goal was to utilize this video entitled, "You Are a Parent" as an orientation tool for all inmates statewide.

This year our facility provided 9,412 hours of community service to various agencies in the Huntington community, the highest ever in the history of Huntington Work Release Center.

Because of our strong belief in the reentry initiative, we continue to help offenders become responsible for themselves and their families. As a result, the financial component of the reentry process tendered almost $36,000.00 in child support, fines, and restitution and $76,469.72 in rent collection during Fiscal Year 2005-2006.

Huttonsville Correctional Center

William Haines, Warden

The Huttonsville Correctional Center (HCC) is located near Huttonsville in Randolph County, approximately 18 miles south of Elkins, WV on U.S. Route 250. It was created by an act of the Legislature in 1937 to relieve overcrowding at the West Virginia Penitentiary. It remained a branch of the parent institution until 1947, at which time the Legislature established it as a separate entity – the West Virginia Medium Security Prison. In 1970, HCC received its current name by a Legislative Act.

The implementation of Direct Supervision on the dormitories has provided a positive change at Huttonsville Correctional Center. Placement of Correctional Officers on six dormitories has reduced incidents of robbery, assaults and other high risk behaviors drastically since April of this year. Direct Supervision has played a major part in improving sanitation and security and the areas are safer for staff and inmates. Placement of the officers on the dormitories has had a direct correlation with reduced Magistrate Docket Cases in those areas. Additionally, the numbers of inmate requests, both formal and informal, have been reduced to only those requiring action by Administrative Staff.

The K-9 Unit Training Center has undergone renovations and improvements over the year. Phone lines and fiber optics to the building have improved communication for the handlers. Additionally, the Center and other units have acquired a Controlled Substance Pharmacy License. The Training Center has also acquired a DEA Researcher License from the US Department of Justice Drug and Enforcement Agency.

Huttonsville's vision of developing a fully functional Human Resource Department came to realization in January of 2006. This department was tasked with the recruitment, testing and hiring of eighty-five (85) new staff. As a result of this department's vigorous and committed efforts, HCC hired fifty-six (56) uniformed staff and ten (10) non-uniformed staff within a three month time period. Recruitment efforts continue, working towards the goal of filling all the vacant positions.

Lakin Correctional Center

Dale Humphreys, Warden

Lakin Correctional Facility for Women is the only all female prison in the State of West Virginia . It is located six miles north of Point Pleasant on State Route 62.

A local family donated the land on which Lakin Correctional Facility sits to the state in the early 1920's. The State built Lakin State Hospital on the land in 1926. There were three buildings sitting in the spot where the facility is now. The medical center and rehabilitation center buildings were both torn down and the activity building was incorporated into the facility, which is now the gymnasium.

Phase I of construction began in February 1999 and was completed in August 2002. Lakin received its first female inmates in January 2003.

Lakin Correctional Facility currently houses 290 minimum to maximum security adult female felons.

Phase II of Lakin Correctional Facility will hold approximately 120 additional inmates and should be completed in the very near future. This will allow the State of West Virginia to consolidate its female prisoners, therefore a more viable method of inmate rehabilitation.

During this Fiscal Year Lakin entered into a contract with ACA on April 3rd, with an estimated audit date of April 3rd, 2007 or after to begin their accreditation process.

The Therapeutic Community Unit opened up March 2006, and currently houses 48 inmates.

Lakin Correctional Facility has purchased 4 modular buildings out of their budget to use as housing for the Mother/Baby Unit.

There have been no officers injured in the line of duty since Lakin Correctional Facility opened its doors in 2003.

Martinsburg Correctional Center

Scott Paugh, Warden

Due to the ever growing inmate population in West Virginia, the Division completed the endeavor of remodeling the first regional jail that was built in West Virginia into the the Martinsburg Correctional Center, this fiscal year. The ribbon cutting ceremony was held 21 October 2005, with Governor Joe Manchin III, Secretary of Military Affairs & Public Safety James Spears, and various other dignitaries in attendance.

The Martinsburg Correctional Center is a 120 bed facility located approximately one half mile east of Martinsburg, off of State Route 19.

The facility's main objective is to serve as the male offender intake unit for the West Virginia Division of Corrections. These inmates are convicted felons and sentenced to serve one or more years in the custody of the Division. A psychological evaluation is conducted and a determination is made whether they will serve their sentence at a minimum, medium, or maximum security facility. Program recommendations will be made along with a medical needs assessment. The inmates will remain at this facility for a short time, approximately 60-90 days before transfer to the facility the inmate was classified for. Due to the short stay of the offender, there is no visitation and limited inmate programs.

Up to 75 positions in the Division of Corrections with Civil Service status are allotted to the Center. This does not include contractual positions.

The Mount Olive Correctional Complex was built as a replacement for the aging West Virginia Penitentiary at Moundsville. Mount Olive Correctional Complex (MOCC) is situated on a 120-acre site near the Mount Olive Church in Fayette County. Total construction costs for the project were $61.8 million. The facility's 19 buildings are encompassed by a secure perimeter fence approximately one mile long. Approximately 80 acres are inside the secure perimeter. Extensive use is made of both electronic and manual security controls with provisions for central control.

The transfer of inmates from the old West Virginia Penitentiary at Moundsville began during February 1995. Transfers were completed during March 1995 without incident and the old West Virginia Penitentiary at Moundsville was closed.

Mount Olive is comparable to a small town with a population of 1321 (Inmates/971- staff/350). It has its own post office, school, exchange/store, medical facility, etc. The economic structure of the outlying towns and businesses have indeed been positively affected from the construction/opening of this facility and will continue for many years to come.

During the Fiscal Year 2005/2006 the Classification team at MOCC classified 768 inmates during a special assignment deemed "Operation Mudslide". In addition, the Classification Team classified 71 inmates, which were placed directly in Pine Hall which in turn, meant they were on separate schedules from the current population. The staff worked together and accomplished a task that had never been attempted at MOCC. All of this was completed without incident.

In addition to their normal duties, the Records Department conducted the IMIS Audit and completed it on time. Due to a court ordered decision the Records Department was required to recalculate discharge dates for all of the inmates. All of this was accomplished with the added tasks of establishing files, master cards and IMIS entry of the 838 inmates that were classified during "Operation Mudslide"

Northern Correctional Center

Evelyn Seifert, Warden

Northern Correctional Center and Northern Regional Jail are housed in the combined Northern Regional Jail and Correctional Center, in Moundsville and employs approximately 127 people. This does not include contract service employees. The facility is the only one of its combined nature in West Virginia. It was dedicated in August 1994.

Northern Correctional Center is one of only two facilities under the DOC umbrella that have achieved ACA accreditation. NCC's inmate custody levels range between Minimum Custody (Level I) and Maximum Custody (Level V). The inmate population is solely comprised of adult male felons.

NCC operates under a unit management philosophy, wherein inmate-housing pods are divided into separate units. Each unit has an assigned team of treatment and security staff, who are under the general supervision of a Unit Manager.

The Northern Correctional Center employees are committed to achieving and maintaining excellent standards of operations and rehabilitation as demonstrated by receiving the honor of accreditation with a score of 99.3% by the American Correctional Association. The ACA Audit was performed September 19-21, 2005. In addition, the Education Department has been accredited by the Correctional Education Association and PrintEd. Medical Services has been accredited by the National Commission of Correctional Healthcare. The Federal Reentry Initiative was also implemented.

During this fiscal year the facility had no escapes, suicides, serious injuries/assaults, or drug violations. The Division commends Northern Correctional Center for these accomplishments.

The Ohio County Correctional Center (OCCC) is located in Wheeling West Virginia and was opened in April 1998, when the West Virginia Division of Corrections began leasing the old Ohio County Jail (built in 1974) for the purpose of housing female offenders. During the next five (5) years, the facility supervised female offenders with varying classification levels to include segregation and BIU (Behavior Improvement Unit) status offenders. The facility continued with this mission until the opening of the Lakin Correctional Center for Women in 2003. OCCC employs approximately 29 full-time staff.

In March 2003, the Ohio County Correctional Center began housing male (technical parole violators) offenders for the purpose of preparing them to work with area community service crews and/or to participate in the St. Marys Correctional Center's Second Chance Program for parole violators. In addition to employment opportunities that are available to the population, the facility also offers a variety of educational and counseling programs such as Aladrue I & II, Crime Victim Awareness, Anger Management, AA/NA, GED, post secondary education, and individual counseling.

The facility currently operates as a minimum-security institution that houses up to 55 offenders at any one time. The facility currently employs four (4) community service crews that do work for the Division of Highways, the Old West Virginia Penitentiary and volunteer work with local schools and churches throughout the community.

In April of 2006 OCCC participated in Operation Reachout/Crime Victims Rights Week.

During this fiscal year, Ohio County Correctional Center received NCC/HC (National Commission of Correctional Health Care) Accreditation for medical services provided through Prime Care Medical. The facility continues its progress towards ACA Accreditation.

Pruntytown Correctional Center

Jim Ielapi, Warden

The Pruntytown Correctional Center (PCC), formerly known as the West Virginia Industrial Home for Boys, is located in Pruntytown near Grafton in Taylor County. The facility, which first opened in 1891, operated as a state correctional institution for delinquent boys until January 1983, when it was closed and the juveniles were transferred to the West Virginia Industrial Home for Youth near Salem. Pruntytown remained vacant and idle until midyear 1985.

After much renovation and remodeling, the facility was reopened as Pruntytown Correctional Center in November 1985, to house minimum security male inmates. In December 1988, the Division of Corrections began moving nearly sixty female inmates to the Pruntytown Correctional Center, creating a coed facility. These females had previously been housed under contract with the Federal Correctional Institution for Women in Alderson, WV.

The following is a list of accomplishments/events that took place at the facility this year:

- PCC staff worked together to complete the IMIS audit on all active and paroled inmates and partial audits on inmates at the work release centers by the June 30th deadline.
- PCC received and processed 619 male inmates during the year as either intakes or transfers, including 91 special intakes to help with the initial filling of the Stevens Correctional Center.
- On May 1, 2006, a Corporal was finally designated as Key and Tool Control Officer. In this short time, much work has been done on tool control and inventories.
- A legislative audit which began at PCC in November 2005 and was completed in June 2006 had very few preliminary negative findings.
- PCC hosted their first annual Community Employment Awareness Program on 17 November 2005. Commissioner Rubenstein, Human Resources Director Wayne Armstrong and the Administrative staff of PCC presented information on employment opportunities with the DOC to interested community members.
- The Department of Education facilitated two 80 hour Underground Mining Pre-Employment classes. These classes were a cooperative effort by the DOE, DOC, WVU Mining Extension and the WV Office of Miner Health, Safety and Training.
- PCC was host to the first Inside Out: Exploring Issues of Crime & Justice Behind West Virginia Prison Walls class. This WVU senior-level Sociology and Anthropology class combined students from WVU and the PCC inmate population and was modeled after a Temple University course. A second class was offered during the Spring/Summer session.

The St. Marys Correctional Center (SMCC) is located three miles north of St. Marys on State Route 2 in Pleasants County. It was formerly known as the Colin Anderson Center, which was established in 1932 by an Act of the Legislature. The Colin Anderson Center was closed in the spring of 1998, at which time funding was provided to renovate the facility as a correctional center.

In the early spring of 1998, the DOC began the preparations needed to house adult male minimum to medium security inmates at SMCC and in November of the same year, Phase I of the construction was underway. A security fence was installed around the perimeter and the institution tapped into the local water system.

Expansion has been an ongoing project since the opening in December 1999. The initial capacity of 306 inmates has progressed to an average daily inmate count of 490. With the ever growing inmate population in West Virginia, expansion of the facility will continue.

The MorseWatchman Key Control System was received in April 2006. All staff received orientation on the operation of the new system and are very satisfied with the level of security it provides.

The Center successfully completed renovations of Unit 19, which houses the Central Control Unit, Operations Office, Armory, and Key Control. The Center also received adequate storage units for the Tactical Operations Center, which provides the necessary equipment for our Corrections Emergency Response Team.

Mowing equipment was purchased to maintain the 35 acres of general grounds.

A tig welder was purchased for the Maintenance Department to provide necessary welding for the facility.

Training Statistics

Each year, the West Virginia Division of Corrections requires every employee to complete a designated amount of training. Training hours are earned by attending classes, seminars, and various other events. The West Virginia Corrections Academy provides aggressive training in order to develop exemplary corrections professionals. Both basic training and required training hours enhance job performance, sharpen skills, and improve the overall professionalism of the DOC.

Table 7 and Chart 1 show the total average inmate population in DOC institutions and the total average inmate population that have been committed to the DOC, but are awaiting prison space in county/regional jails during the past 14 years. During that period, the inmate population held in DOC institutions has increased by a total of 2,238 inmates.

Inmates that were committed to the DOC but were waiting in county/regional jails for bed space in DOC facilities increased by a total of 870 inmates since record keeping began in 1992.

The DOC also houses inmates in the McDowell County Correctional Center; this population is represented in the "Cont. Pop" column.

This report only includes data on those inmates in the physical custody of the DOC as of June 30th, 2006. Unless otherwise noted, each inmate is represented only once in each table.

The DOC categorizes each crime into three separate levels, the specific crime, the crime subcategory, and the crime category.

Monthly Average Parole Services Caseload by County

Chart 8: Monthly Average Parole Services Caseloads by County FY 2006.

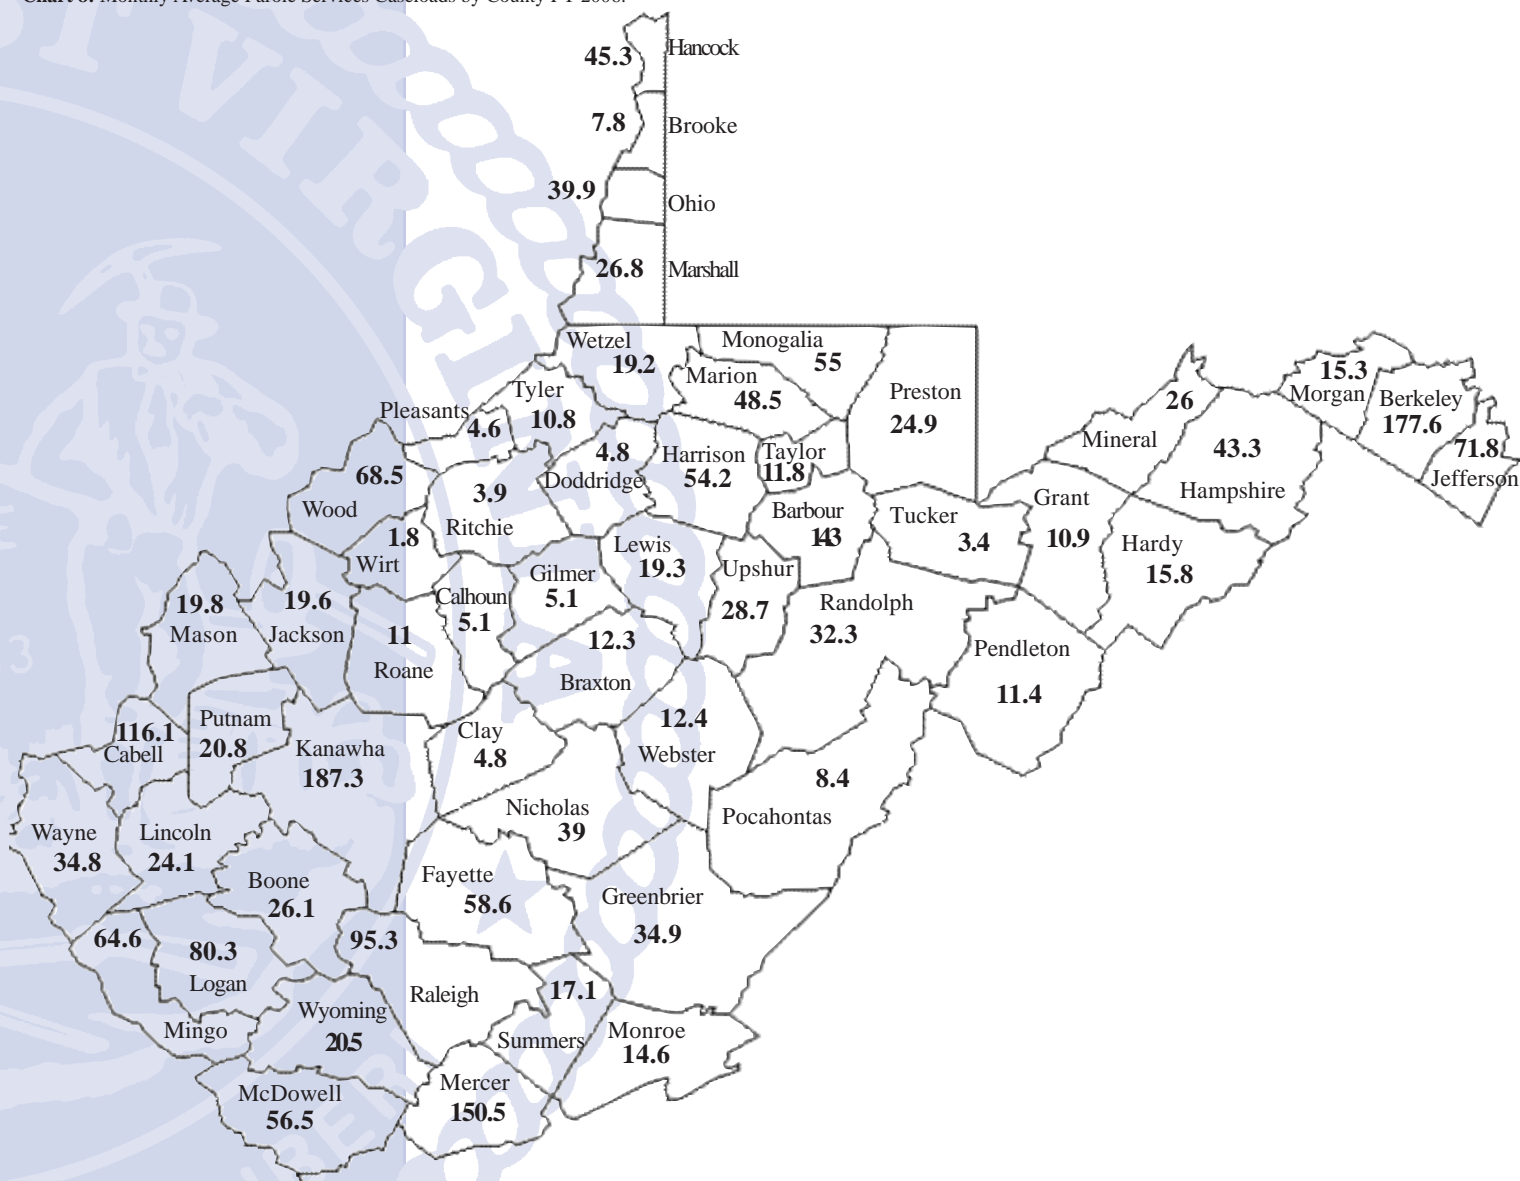

Chart 8 shows the average monthly Parole Services caseloads by county for FY 2006. Kanawha County had the highest monthly average, followed by Berkeley, Mercer, Cabell, and Raleigh Counties. Some reasons for these high numbers are the fact that Kanawha, Cabell, and Raleigh have high populations compared to the rest of the state, while Berkeley and Mercer border other states and supervise a large number of interstate compact cases.

Wirt County had the lowest monthly average caseload, followed by Tucker and Ritchie Counties.

West Virginia Penitentiary 1866-1995

Pictures provided by Michael Coleman

Inmates sorting produce at WV Penitentiary.

Three years after West Virginia became a state, an appropriation was made by Legislature for the purchase of land at or near Moundsville WV, in the amount of $50,000.00. The Legislature directed the Board of Public Works to select a site and to purchase, not less than ten acres. This was to be the future site of the West Virginia Penitentiary. The original buildings were enclosed by walls and situated on approximately 5 acres of ground. These walls were a solid wall of masonry (hand cut stone), twenty-five feet high and five to seven feet at the base, tapering somewhat toward the top and surmounted by six guard towers. Up until this time, prisoners were kept in county jails.

No official record of the original inmate population is available. When the population was at its peak the penitentiary operated a 300 acre farm, a print shop, a shirt shop, a tobacco plant, a broom factory, a tailor shop, a paint factory, a whip (buggy whip) factory as well as a coal mine. During this period it was self-sustaining in food stuffs, such as growing and canning an average of 22,000 gallons of tomatoes and beans a year. 55,000 pounds of cabbage, 6,000 pounds of lettuce, 1,500 bushels of corn and other crops were harvested also. The farm also produced milk, eggs, beef and pork.

In 1920 a “modern” shaft coal mine was started and ready for operation. In August 1921 at an approximate cost of $15,000 the penitentiary began getting its entire supply of coal from the mine. Based on 1921 prices, approximately $14,000 was saved annually in the fuel bill, translating to that amount of savings for the taxpayers of WV.

Between 1899 and 1959 the Penitentiary executed 94 men. No females were ever executed in WV. The first penitentiary execution was by hanging on October 9, 1899. The last hanging was February 25, 1949. The Legislature decided that electrocution was more humane and in 1950 the Warden took an inmate who was an electrician, to the Ohio Penitentiary to learn how make a “chair”. This chair built by an inmate was dubbed “Sparky”. The first electrocution was March 26, 1951 and the last April 3, 1959. West Virginia abolished the death penalty in 1965.
