Message from the Secretary of MAPS

It is with great privilege that I present the West Virginia Division of Correction's Annual Report.

Under the valued leadership of Commissioner Jim Rubenstein, the division has continued to make tremendous strides over the past year in ensuring public safety while developing solutions to the critical challenges posed by West Virginia's ever increasing incarceration numbers.

The WVDOC continues to offer multiple programs geared toward rehabilitating incarcerated individuals, enabling them to return to society upon their release as productive citizens. Recently, through a collaborative effort with the West Virginia Regional Jail Authority, state sentenced inmates are being offered WVDOC programs at multiple WVRJA facilities while awaiting WVDOC bed space.

Furthermore, in the past twelve months WVDOC has made progress in expanding services through increased Work Release and Residential Substance Abuse Treatment (RSAT) initiatives.

The overpopulation crisis highlights the ongoing need for outstanding leadership not only within the WVDOC, but also from all of West Virginia's policy making leaders.

In an effort to address this issue, WVDOC maintains its resolve in focusing on the recommendations outlined in the Governor's Commission on Prison Overcrowding Report. I applaud the WVDOC leadership for their efforts and remain committed to supporting all initiatives designed to help West Virginia meet its incarcerating needs.

The following report reflects the division's ongoing commitment to public safety. While much progress has been made there is still a tremendous amount of work that must be done.

As Cabinet Secretary I appreciate and know firsthand, the hard work and dedication demonstrated by WVDOC staff. I sincerely look forward to continuing to work with them as we strive to resolve West Virginia's incarceration challenges while continuing to serve the needs of the citizens of this great state.

Joseph C. Thornton,
Cabinet Secretary
West Virginia Department of Military Affairs and Public Safety

Message from the Commissioner

The West Virginia Division of Corrections FY 2011 Annual Report serves to highlight the many facets of our agency, by providing informational data and statistics of our facilities and offender population. Once again this report would not be possible without the collaborative effort of staff from the 15 correctional facilities, correctional industries, corrections academy, parole services, and central office.

WVDOC has an unwavering mission of enhancing public safety by providing safe, secure, humane correctional facilities, operating an effective system of offender reentry and community supervision, reducing offender recidivism, and assisting victims of crime.

We continue to struggle with the ongoing challenge of felony prisoner population growth; according to a recent report by the Bureau of Justice Statistics, released in 2010, WV had the 2nd largest percentage increase in state prison populations in the US. WV ranks #4 in the US for the highest percent of prisoners housed in regional (local) jails at 20.5%. It is one of the most complex issues and will take the collaboration of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial branches of government to best plan for the state's needs regarding controlling the ever expanding prison population.

Despite economic challenges over the last year, we have witnessed many achievements in the WVDOC, which are showcased in this report. Success never happens by accident, and once again in FY2011, it was brought about by the concentrated hard work and dedication of over 1800 individuals working together to achieve our common mission. I am very proud and honored to be a part of this productive team and to present this report.

In an effort to be a progressive and innovative operation in the corrections field, we will continue to provide reliable and useful information to assist in future policy making, planning and operational decisions.

Major Accomplishments

- Huttonsville Correctional Center was recommended for American Correctional Association Accreditation in March 2011. Mount Olive Correctional Complex was also re-accredited this FY.
- Training began on the LS/CMI Risk & Needs assessment, a standardized evaluation tool used to determine offender programming needs.
- Working in conjunction with the West Virginia Parole Board, the WVDOC implemented an “Accelerated Parole” program which allows eligible offenders who complete their programming requirements, the opportunity to be considered for parole 3-months early.

- Beckley Correctional Center opened a 59 bed Residential Substance Abuse Treatment Unit (RSAT) this FY.

- Correctional Industries completed their website. Customers can now go online, view products, calculate prices, and place an order. The website may be viewed at www.wvcorrectionalindustries.com
- Parole Services collected $1,111,239 in fees this FY to help offset supervision costs, therefore decreasing taxpayer dollars budgeted for this area.
- Inmates performed 542,893 community service hours this FY, this is up 43,288 hours from last year.
- The Office of Research & Planning released the report/study “Recidivism.... Inmates Released in 2007”.

American Correctional Association

The American Correctional Association (ACA) is a private, nonprofit organization that provides the only national accreditation process for adult and juvenile corrections. The ACA's purpose is to promote improvement in the management of correctional agencies through the administration of a voluntary accreditation process and the continued development and revision of relevant, useful standards.

The accreditation process started in 1978, and it involves about 80 percent of all state departments of corrections and youth services as active participants. In addition, programs and facilities operated by the Federal Bureau of Prisons, the U. S. Parole Commission, and the District of Columbia are also involved in the accreditation process.

The accreditation process offers these agencies the chance to evaluate their operations against national standards, remedy deficiencies, and upgrade the quality of correctional programs and services.

During this fiscal year the Huttonsville Correctional Center was audited for ACA accreditation on March 22-24, and was recommended for accreditation. The Mount Olive Correctional Complex was audited for ACA re-accreditation on September 20-22, 2010, and was also recommended to be re-accredited. ## Deputy Commissioner

Jim Ielapi

James J. Ielapi began his career with the West Virginia Division of Corrections in 1981, serving as the Director of the Instructional Media Center at the West Virginia Industrial Home for Youth. With an opportunity to expand his career into adult corrections, he transferred to the Pruntytown Correctional Center in 1998, as the Associate Warden of Operations. In 2002 he was appointed Warden of Pruntytown Correctional Center. During his tenure the facility experienced a significant change with the transfer of female offenders to another facility, making Pruntytown a male only facility for the first time in years. The population also expanded and saw an increase in its custody level with the addition of more medium custody inmates. Also during his tenure, Pruntytown became accredited by the American Correctional Association (ACA) and Correctional Educational Association (CEA), while also being re-accredited by the National Commission on Correctional Health Care (NCCHC).

Legislative Liaison / Executive Assistant

Loita Butcher

A bill is an idea for a new law, or an idea to change or do away with an existing law. Hundreds of bills enter the legislative process in West Virginia each time the Legislature meets. Two groups of elected citizens - 34 senators and 100 delegates - study, discuss and vote on bills, and in doing so act for the people of West Virginia. Bills enter the legislative process either through the House of Delegates or the Senate, but to become a law, a bill must pass both chambers and avoid a governor's veto. Loita Butcher, Executive Assistant to the Commissioner, submits legislative requests for every agency under the umbrella of Military Affairs and Public Safety to include the Cabinet Secretary's Office, National Guard, Division of Corrections, Correctional Industries, Criminal Justice Services, Homeland Security and Security Management, Fire Marshal, Juvenile Services, Parole Board, Protective Services, Regional Jail and Correctional Facility Authority, West Virginia State Police and Veteran's Affairs.

The following is a brief synopsis of some of the bills that Loita submitted to the Legislature and were passed during the 2011 Legislative Session:

HB2001 – PROVIDING HOW INMATES SERVING LIFE SENTENCES SHALL BE CONSIDERED

FOR PAROLE – The purpose of this bill relates to powers and duties of the board of parole; providing that inmates serving life sentences with possibility of parole may be reconsidered by the parole board anytime within three years of denial of parole (instead of the mandatory one year).

HB2517 – RELATING TO PROVIDING WORKERS COMPENSATION BENEFITS FOR PERSONS PARTICIPATING IN THE PRISON INDUSTRY ENHANCEMENT PROGRAM – The purpose of the bill is to allow the Division of Corrections (Correctional Industries) to purchase and provide workers compensation benefits to inmates working in the PIE program rather than having the private entity provide such coverage.

HB2520 – RELATING TO ASSIGNMENT OF YOUTHFUL OFFENDERS TO CORRECTIONAL FACILITIES – The purpose of this bill is to modify the age criteria to be sentenced to ACC. The age has been changed from 23 to 24 at the time the offense was committed and that no person over the age of 25 may be committed.

WVDOC Commissioner's Office

Terri Arthur, Hearing Examiner

The Division of Corrections Hearing Examiner conducts all preliminary parole violation hearings statewide and is the Commissioner's representative conducting all level I grievance hearings throughout the Division of Corrections. In previous years video conferencing was utilized when holding preliminary hearings in all but three jails within the state. In 2010, in an effort to once again improve the efficiency of the office, the Hearing Examiner implemented video conferencing in level I grievance hearings in approximately 75% of all grievances filed. Due to the nature of the grievance and the particulars involved, it is not always feasible to hold the hearing via video conferencing although the amount of travel time involved has decreased tremendously throughout the year.

Decisions at the preliminary parole violation hearings are made to determine if probable cause exists in order to detain a Parolee in jail for an alleged parole violation. Should probable cause be found, the case is forwarded to the Parole Board for revocation proceedings.

One hundred forty five preliminary parole violation hearings were scheduled throughout the year. Of those, seventy four waived the hearing, nine were reinstated or had charges held in abeyance by a Parole Officer, one was cancelled by the sending state, three are currently being held due to Parolee continuance request and fifty eight hearings were held.

Fifty six level I grievance hearings were scheduled during this fiscal year. Twenty of the grievances were settled and/or withdrawn during the level I process. One grievance was granted and four were granted in part. Twenty eight were denied, one bypassed level I and went directly to level II and two are held in abeyance pending employee return from leave of absence. If the grievant is not satisfied with the decision made at this level, they may appeal to the State Employees Grievance Board. During this fiscal year the Grievance Board upheld 100% of the decisions made at Level I.

The Hearing Examiner is also an EEO Investigator and Counselor and conducts investigations as appointed by the Commissioner.

Corrections Investigations

Brad Hudson, Director

In February 2005, the Corrections Investigation Division (CID) was created by Commissioner Rubenstein for the purpose of providing professional and impartial investigations of all inmate and staff related violations of Division of Corrections Policy and State and Federal Law. Over the years, the Investigation Division has grown to nine investigators working under the supervision of the Director, who is appointed by the Commissioner. Currently there are Investigators at Northern Correctional Facility, St. Mary's Correctional Center, Lakin Correctional Center, Pruntytown Correctional Center and two Investigators at Mt. Olive Correctional Complex and Huttonsville Correctional Center.

Currently the Corrections Investigation Division has two Computer Voice Stress Examiners. These Investigators were trained by the National Institute for Truth Verification. The use of Computer Voice Stress Analysis has proven itself beneficial over the past as a very effective investigative tool in combating false allegations, as well as providing information that is critical to the resolution of investigations.

CID Investigators have played a critical part in combating and controlling gang activity within the Division of Corrections. These Investigators have attended several gang and terroristic group seminars and are currently members of the National Alliance of Gang Investigators. They have developed criteria for identifying and classifying inmates as gang members and use this information to track the inmates and monitor their gang related activity. These Investigators have also developed a program related to identifying gang signs and tattoos. They have presented this program to numerous groups within the Division of Corrections as well as to other state agencies.

The Corrections Investigation Division investigates all allegations of criminal and administrative misconduct occurring within DOC facilities. These investigations deal with a wide range of violations and inquiries, such as, staff and inmate violations of policy, escapes, sexual misconduct, drug trafficking, simple and malicious assault and many others. CID Investigators conducted several investigations working in conjunction with State and Federal law enforcement which resulted in successful prosecutions. This fiscal year, the Corrections Investigation Division conducted 232 investigations.

William S. Haines

April 22, 1944-March 25, 2011

He had many accomplishments and had received many awards during his career as an Administrator, Police Officer, Supervisor and Teacher which included the WV Division of Corrections Meritorious Service Medal for his devotion and over 4 decades of public service and public safety. He also received the Distinguished Mountaineer Award from Governor Earl Ray Tomblin. Additional awards received included the Achievement Award from the Boy Scouts of America in 1976, WV Safety Councils Instructor of the Year-1989, a State Certified Law Enforcement Instructor from 1993 until his death. Bill was a man of the utmost integrity, compassion and determination. His love for his wife, Janice, his children, grandchildren and entire family was heartwarming to all who knew him. Not only has the WV Division of Corrections lost a remarkable human being, but the entire state of West Virginia has lost a dedicated public servant. There was only one Bill Haines and we will truly miss him.”

WVDOC Directors Academy

Randy Perdue, Director

The West Virginia Corrections Academy is located at the West Virginia Department of Military Affairs and Public Safety Professional Development Center in Glenville WV. Staff development within the West Virginia Division of Corrections provides a four phase training program for sworn and civilian staff of the West Virginia Department of Public Safety, Division of Corrections. Basic, Orientation Program, In-service and Specialized Training comprise these facets of development. Correctional and Parole Officers employed by the state (to include McDowell County Correctional Center) complete Basic Training and attend Specialized Training programs sponsored or conducted by the Academy.

To foster staff development and align with the national training model, the Academy is a separate unit within the Division of Corrections. The chief executive officer of the Academy is the Director of Training and exercises responsibility and authority over all staff training. Each employee within the Division of Corrections must complete the "Basic Training" Class within one year of employment. The Basic Training Class has been a vital tool in the introduction, development, and establishment of "esprit de corps," the importance of quality and teamwork, a common base of theoretical and operational knowledge, skills and abilities, fosters an environment which stresses continuing training and education for career minded individuals.

The mission of the agency is rooted in a paramilitary structure. While the majority of Basic Training Trainees are uniformed correctional officers there are many non-uniformed staff as well. For this reason, the Academy Basic experience instills personal discipline, strict adherence to the chain of command, the concept of teamwork and compliance with rules and regulations. The Academy seeks to accomplish these goals through a tightly controlled training environment. Trainees are required to perform work details, stand inspections, participate in physical fitness training and are subject to curfew. Personal behavior and habits are monitored by Academy Staff.

The Corrections Academy continues to offer up to date curricula and promulgate positive change in the Division of Corrections. The West Virginia Corrections Academy Curricula has been recognized as being among the best in the nation.

Administration

Patti Withrow, Director

The Administrative Unit of the Division of Corrections performs a variety of functions including budget and financial forecasting, procurement, fleet management, construction and maintenance management, internal auditing, asset management and surplus property services, payroll and employee benefits, leases, P-Card oversight, and payment processing functions. Financial forecasting and expenditure oversight is a critical function for the DOC due to its increasing inmate population and reduced FY 2011 budget.

Director Patricia Withrow began her leadership of the Fiscal Section on August 1, 2011, and immediately began to implement long range financial planning practices with the submission of the DOC's FY 2013 Appropriation Request. Although a five per cent budget reduction restricted the DOC, the Fiscal Section worked to secure additional funding to ensure ending FY 2011 with all facility obligations paid.

During FY 2011, Director Withrow filled several vacant positions within the Fiscal Section. Bryan Arthur was promoted to the position of ASM I/Fiscal Manager. Patricia Carney was promoted to fill the Bryan's prior position of Administrative Services Assistant II. Reginald Smith and Angela Cooper were selected to fill two Administrative Services Assistant I positions. Amanda Knight was hired as a temporary Accounting Assistant III. Jeannie Morris was hired as the DOC's Internal Auditor in June of 2011 to complete the Fiscal Section's staff. Other staff members are Ad Oji, ASM I/Procurement Manager, Philip Farley, ASM I/Construction Manager, Lee Harvey, Accountant/Auditor II, Sharon Dunbar, ASA II and Lynn Poe, Accounting Tech II.

Several new processes were instituted during the year by the Fiscal Section to allow for a more efficient and financially responsible Administrative Unit. Mailing all employee paychecks and electronic pay stubs began in the fall with great success. UPS and postal costs were reduced by approximately $10,000 per year and personnel hours were limited in this process. To reduce the time vendors have to wait for payments, the Fiscal Section began document scanning to the Auditor's Office in May. This practice has accelerated the payment processing time by several days. After several months of research to eliminate fraud, the Inmate Trust Accounting System (Lockdown) was extended into the Beckley Correctional Center and the Charleston and Huntington Work Releases in July 2011.

Classification

Anne Thomas, Director

The Director of Classification is responsible for ensuring the Classification and Risk Assessments of offenders incarcerated within the Division of Corrections are completed in accordance with agency Policy and Procedure. Classification determines the appropriate security placement and special needs of offenders within the DOC. Classification also assists in ensuring that offenders within the DOC are classified annually.

Central Office Movement Coordinators, Rita Albury and Kem Hudson, are assigned to the office of the Director of Classification. The Movement Coordinators are tasked with the responsibility of coordinating all inmate movement, which includes inmates with felony convictions sentenced to the Division of Corrections and all movement within the DOC from facility to facility. Movement should not only consider Public Safety and Security, but also be fiscally responsible.

The following are a few of the significant accomplishments that occurred during this fiscal year:

- A new Classification and Case Management Audit form was implemented on January 01, 2011. This form allows Facility Classification Directors to review Classification Files, Classification/Case Management forms, and IMIS, to ensure adherence of DOC Policy and Procedures.
- Coordinated with DOC-Information Technology Department in developing an Intake Planning screen on IMIS, which took effect on December 30, 2010. This will assist Movement Coordinators in sharing information on inmates being received from the Regional Jails. Additionally, it will enable the tracking of offenders' special needs more efficiently.
- The Movement Coordinators facilitated 2,915 total admissions into the DOC this fiscal year. This includes 1,942 Intakes, 486 Parole Violators, 192 Diagnostic & Classification, and 295 Youthful Offenders.

Correctional Industries

Eddie Long, Director

WV Correctional Industries (WVCI) is a self-sustaining special revenue business entity and a corrections program that is responsible for efficient and effective operation of the various manufacturing facilities within the DOC. In order to accomplish this mission it is imperative that WVCI be focused on their customers, their products and their workforce, both civilian and inmate.

During 2011, WVCI established a web site and customer showroom, both of which are aimed at creating a user friendly environment and improving and enhancing customer awareness. Customers can now go online, view the products, calculate prices and place an order. Or they can stop by Correctional Industries (617 Leon Sullivan Way, Charleston) to touch, feel and see the over 40 items manufactured in the various shops that are on display. An open house was held on April 25 of this year and over 60 people visited CI central office, warehouse and showroom.

In addition to the above, WVCI continued to improve operations, shipment and delivery of products. WVCI did this by utilizing Lean Manufacturing concepts such as 5S (organize workplace for efficiency and effectiveness) and Value Stream Mapping (analyze and design the flow of materials and information required to bring a product or service to the consumer). Several sessions were held with all WVCI employees to assess strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats. One of the goals in 2012 will be to address these findings.

Revenues for 2011 were $7.8 million. This was down from 2010 due primarily to budget constraints throughout the DOC and other state agencies. In order for Correctional Industries to accomplish its dual role of business entity and corrections program we need to staff operations with talented individuals, pursue continuous improvement and be open to new and innovative ways of doing things.

In addition, WVCI will continue to grow the Prison Industries Enhancement (PIE) and Service aspects of the business to realize additional revenues outside of their traditional customer base. This has enormous potential to provide new revenue streams for the DOC/State and in doing so, save the taxpayers of West Virginia.

Human Resources

Wayne Armstrong, Director

The Human Resources section continues to strive to balance employees' rights against the Agency's obligation to comply with state and federal laws, as well as to ensure Agency Policy and Procedure are followed. Human Resources provide responsive customer service, while attempting to balance employee interests with the Agency's goals.

Wayne Armstrong, Director of Human Resources continues to improve the techniques for Correctional Officer Testing. He most recently worked in conjunction with Insight Worldwide, Inc., our contract company, to allow all newly hired Correctional Officers the ability to take the Corrections Selection Inventory (CSI), to be used as the required psychological without their scores going directly to the Division of Personnel. Wayne actively serves as a Subject Matter Expert (SME) for the Hay Group Classification Project that recently began Phase II.

In addition to the Director, the Human Resources section consists of Ms. Becky Ferrell, Administrative Services Manager I who oversees WV-11 transaction processes, the posting of positions, and manages all matters administrative in nature and reports her activities to the Director daily. She supervises Stephanie Boyd, Administrative Services Assistant I and Jason Duckworth, Office Assistant III, who joined the HR staff during this fiscal year. Becky also has the authority to commit the HR office to a course of action in the Director's absence. During this fiscal year Becky processed approximately 2,900 personnel transactions while also serving as the EEO (Equal Employment Opportunity) Representative.

Recruiting and filling vacant positions is always a priority in the Human Resources Division. Katrina Kessel was a key partner in the process of updating the Division of Corrections Recruiting Plan 2011–2013. During this fiscal year she was responsible for overseeing the Hay Group Classification Project Phase I. She also oversees the day-by-day administration of the Corrections Selection Inventory (CSI). She actively serves as an EEO Representative.

Information Technology

Carl Graves, Director

The Information Technology (IT) Department oversees the Inmate Management Information system (IMIS), the IMIS reporting system, the online support ticket system to provide assistance to WVDOC Staff, management of shared servers, network access approval, 12 system, providing reports and data to the Social Security Administration, the Internal Revenue Service and the Victim's Information Notification Everyday (VINE) system. The computer department continues expansions and improvements of databases, servers, and systems. All Division of Corrections locations have moved to the states domain and email system which was very beneficial to all employees. This department is in the process of implementing Share Point through the agency and is researching Microsoft Dynamics extended customer relationship management.

IMIS currently provides access to information for the West Virginia State Police, West Virginia Department of Education, and West Virginia Regional Jail Authority in order to serve Public Safety.

The IT Department also oversees the West Virginia Division of Corrections website, www.wvdoc.com and also the internal intranet site for the WVDOC employees. The intranet site offers employees contact information for other employees, access to policies, publications, reports and employee forms, as well as other useful information. Offender information is available to the general public through WVDOC's internet offender search. Numerous publications regarding offender topics are available on the website, along with escapee and absconder information. In addition, there is a facility locator and bulletins for career opportunities with the West Virginia Division of Corrections.

Bandwidth capacity has been increased at Lakin Correctional Center, Mount Olive Correctional Complex, and Huttonsville Correctional Center to improve operability.

The IT Department Serves in a "behind the scenes" role for the Division of Corrections, but is vital to successful operations throughout the entire division.

Medical Services

Carol Egnatoff, Director

The Comprehensive Inmate Health Care Services Section has been in operation for almost 3 years. The Health Care Services Section serves as the Division's specialized liaison with the health care vendors. This department also participates in assessment, planning, implementation and evaluation of policy and practice throughout the system, to make sure that medical services meet the Division's goals.

Direct inmate health care services are provided within secure facilities. These services provide appropriate health care for basic health needs, including chronic health problems, infectious conditions, mental health needs, and support for disabilities. During the past year, infirmary services were added at St. Marys Correctional Center. This adds St. Marys to the list of WVDOC sites that can provide in-patient care for inmate medical conditions; thus reducing the cost of utilizing community resources for such care and maintains high levels of security. Mount Olive Correctional Complex and Lakin Correctional Center also provide infirmary-level services. All other sites provide clinic-level services and transport to the community for further treatment.

Health education activities are also coordinated for inmates and correctional staff. These programs encourage inmates to take responsibility for their own health. Information about preventing disease and living with chronic health conditions is provided to inmates on a regular basis.

Health care and education activities promote health and safety within WVDOC facilities. Inmates who are discharged from WVDOC facilities may be better able to return to their families and communities because they have received appropriate care and education. This serves not only our inmate community, but our citizens statewide.

Carol Egnatoff left this position close to the end of this fiscal year to pursue other career opportunities, but the operation of this unit will continue following personnel recruitment.

Parole Services

Delbert Harrison, Director

West Virginia Parole Services is dedicated to enhancing public safety, remediating the behavior of criminal offenders to acceptable community standards, protecting the interests of victims of crime and sustaining a secure environment for all people in the State of West Virginia through active supervision techniques and the effective use of evidence-based, re-entry programming and treatment practices. Parole Services currently has 54 parole officers with caseloads, 15 support staff, and 3 administrators that supervise approximately 2,400 offenders at any given time. These offenders are classified as in-state parolees, other state probationers, other state parolees and other state misdemeanants, all living in West Virginia. Parole Services' budget expenditures for the fiscal year were approximately $3,786,931.00. Parole Services provides treatment options to supervised offenders in the areas of alcohol and drug abuse as well as sex offender counseling. Referrals of offenders to community resources in the areas of education, employment and mental health are a standard feature of parole supervision in WV. Parole Services provides additional community supervision services by maintaining an electronic monitoring program, as well as an enhanced supervision program for sex offenders and other violent offenders while under DOC community supervision. Listed below are a few accomplishments of the past fiscal year.

- Parole Services was able to supervise offenders in the community at a cost of $1,580.00 per offender in calendar year 2010.
- Parole Services was able to collect fees from offenders under community supervision and electronic monitoring in the amount of $1,111,239.75. These collections help offset the cost of providing services and provide funds to help pay fees for those offenders who are indigent and unable to pay.
- Parole Services' partnership with other community supervision agencies, law enforcement Drug Task Forces throughout the State and with the Federal Marshals Service, has enabled our parole officers to supervise their offenders more diligently and return of offenders found in-and out-of-state to DOC custody after absconding supervision or violating their parole conditions of release.
- Parole Services is participating in Effective Practices in Community Supervision (EPICS) training sponsored by the Division of Criminal Justice Services.

Programs

Jennifer Ballard, Director

The Office of the Director of Programs is responsible for providing leadership in four major areas within the Division of Corrections: the Unit Management System, Grant Management, Inmate Programs and Services and the West Virginia Inmate Reentry Initiative. The Office of the Director of Programs is also responsible for planning, organizing, developing and implementing a system of program consistency throughout the Division of Corrections, such as assessments, substance abuse treatment and sex offender management services. Additionally, the Office of the Director of Programs is responsible for providing general direction and realistic planning to the Associate Wardens-Programs, as it relates to continuum of care and inmate programs and services. The Office of the Director of Programs also develops strategic plans related to inmate programs and collaborates with other agencies to build effective programs and service delivery for staff and inmates.

During Fiscal Year 2011, the Office of the Director of Programs can report the following significant events and accomplishments:

- Level of Service/Case Management Inventory (LS/CMI) – The Governors' Commission on Prison Overcrowding recommended using a standard evaluation tool to determine offender programming needs. The LS/CMI instrument was selected. Programs staff from several facilities along with the Director of Programs were selected to participate in Train the Trainers for the assessment. Those individuals taught the user classes for Unit Managers, Case Managers and Counselors throughout the agency.
- Beckley Correctional Center Residential Substance Abuse Treatment Unit (RSAT): In March 2011 the West Virginia Division of Corrections opened a 59 bed RSAT unit at the Beckley Correctional Center. Programs staff were properly trained to manage this unit. Technical advice and assistance was provided by the Programs staff in this office and from various facilities which aided Beckley in a smooth transition.

Central Records & Interstate Compact

Henry Lowery, Director

The West Virginia Adult Interstate Compact Office is responsible for coordinating the interstate transfer and supervision of adult offenders from West Virginia to other states and from other states to West Virginia. In addition, the Adult Interstate Compact Office is responsible for returning escapees, parole violators, and sentenced inmates under the Uniform Extradition Act.

The Interstate Commission implemented the Interstate Compact Offender Tracking System (ICOTS) in October 2008. This is a nation-wide system that operates via internet and email to transfer and manage interstate offenders.

On June 30, 2011, West Virginia was supervising 905 probationers and 177 parolees for a total of 1,082 offenders from other states.

On June 30, 2011, West Virginia had 346 parolees and 271 probationers for a total of 617 offenders supervised by other states.

During FY 2011, the Extradition Coordinator handled 100 extraditions back to the West Virginia DOC. There were 74 parole violators returned, 2 escapees returned, and 24 inmates extradited from another state or Federal custody. The 24 inmates were returned to begin serving or to complete serving their West Virginia sentence. Of the 100 extraditions, 45 were transported by DOC employees, and 55 were transported by a private transport company. The 55 private transports cost the Division $49,785.30. The cost of the DOC transports was not maintained.

The Central Records Office maintains files on all DOC Inmates in DOC custody, DOC Inmates in a Regional or County Jail, DOC Contracted Institutions, DOC Inmates in Federal or another state's custody, DOC Parolees both in and out of state, and Probationers and Parolees transferred to or out of West Virginia, pursuant to the Interstate Compact.

Research & Planning

Brad Douglas, Director

The Office of Research and Planning is responsible for the collection and analysis of inmate and corrections information, as well as, the production of various reports and projects. The office routinely compiles and archives population statistics, commitment vs. release statistics, inmate and parolee demographic information, crime statistics, and more.

Much of this information is detailed starting on page 42 of this report. The office is also involved in numerous special projects such as information requests from Legislators, Inmate Population Forecasting, and specialized research publications. This Annual Report is one such publication; others include employee turnover reviews, recidivism, children of incarcerated parents, and the WVDOC employee newsletter. Another aspect of the Office's responsibilities is the management of the WVDOC's Strategic Planning efforts. The WVDOC's current strategic plan was developed to address the five priority goals of the agency (see page 8) and was created through a collaborative process that included the entire leadership team with feedback from staff at all levels of the agency. The following are a few of this office's accomplishments during the past year.

- The Office further enhanced the Monthly Performance Indicator system.
- The Office released two reports detailing recidivism trend for inmates released in 2006 and 2007. These and other research publications are available at www.wvdoc.com.
- The Office provided planning support to initiatives related to the Governor's Commission on Prison Overcrowding recommendations. These activities include Work Release Center construction, the implementation of the Accelerated Parole Program, and the adoption of the Level of Service/Case Management Inventory offender assessment.
- The Office continued strategic planning efforts to implement Prison Rape Elimination Act standards.
- The Office conducted numerous data audits and improvement initiatives related to the Inmate Management Information System (IMIS). IMIS is the WVDOC's main inmate information repository.

WVDOC Directors Safety & Loss

Chuck Mankins, Director

The Safety Department completed the design of an internal occupational injury data collection system and is currently in the process of training the employees who will be entering the data for analysis. This data will be used to determine accident and injury trends in order to apply appropriate safety methods to eliminate or reduce reoccurring employee injuries. The Safety Department is currently using claim and injury statistics supplied by the Division's current Workers' Compensation Insurance Carrier which is showing a gradual reduction in claims and injuries after the implementation of the Safety Program. However, once our internal system is up and running, we will be able to detect accident trends more specifically in relation to individual facilities, job types, work shifts, times of day, days of the week, seasons of the year, weather conditions, etc.

During fiscal year 2011, the Safety Department began investigating accidents and injuries incurred by employees and inmates for the first time. The purpose of these investigations is not to establish blame but to determine a root cause for why the accident actually occurred. Once the root cause can be identified, more affective abatement procedures can be applied towards eliminating or lessening the frequency and severity of any particular type of an accident.

Accident Investigations will be further enhanced by the Safety Department's development of a 2 day Accident Investigation course which will be presented to the Division's Safety Officers at the Corrections Academy this upcoming year. This course will focus on basic investigative techniques such as evidence recognition and collection, scene photography, interview techniques, determining causes, recommendations for abatements, and report writing.

Positive effects from following safe work practices can easily be gained when both administrative personnel and employees participate. This results in staff going home safely.

Security

Michael Coleman, Director

The Security Department provides agency level oversight and coordination of the Division of Corrections Correctional Hearing Officer Section, Intelligence Section and Special Operations.

Correctional Hearing Officer Section includes nine Correctional Hearing Officers and a Chief Hearing Officer who exercise responsibility and authority to adjudicate internal disciplinary hearings for inmates charged with violating Division of Corrections rules. During Fiscal Year 2011 the section adjudicated 9117 cases.

Anthony Correctional Center

Scott Patterson, Warden

Anthony Correctional Center (ACC) is a 220 bed minimum security facility located in Greenbrier County. It was established in 1970 and took on its specialized mission as an alternative sentencing option for young adult offenders in 1980. Currently, ACC houses 18-24 year old men and women. Each offender is sentenced to the facility with a suspended original sentence for their felony conviction. The offenders serve between six and twenty-four months and are required to complete an intensive and comprehensive program plan that addresses their individual needs.

Over the fiscal year 2011, the following changes have been implemented:

- A gate was installed in the kitchen dock area to enhance security.
- A new key plan was implemented, resulting in improved control and accountability of keys as well as in employees carrying less keys throughout the facility.
- Additional cameras were added throughout the facility, thus adding to staff and inmate safety.
- The Offender Work Operational Procedure was revised making work mandatory (as opposed to optional) for offenders, as required by WV Code.
- The Phase System (offender Classification) Operational Procedure was revised to tie offenders' privileges and level of self-responsibility more directly to their performance and behavior.
- Counselors have been assigned to specific dormitories so that they will become familiar with the offenders on their caseloads, as well as be more readily able to assist the correctional officers assigned to that area.
- Substance Abuse Therapists have initiated a life reconstruction group class focusing on staying clean and sober while dealing with obstacles of re-entry into society and beyond.
- The recreation walking track was modified.
- Therapists assigned to the facility by PSI-MED have begun conducting a Domestic Violence Intervention Program, as well as a Trauma Recovery Empowerment for Women class.

Beckley Correctional Center

William Vest, Warden

The Beckley Work Release Center was established in 1974, but was reorganized in 1997 and renamed the Beckley Correctional Center (BCC). The Center expanded into the Jackie Withrow Hospital in March of 2011. BCC is a minimum security community correctional facility with a Residential Substance Abuse Treatment Unit, (RSAT) located on the grounds of the Jackie Withrow Hospital. BCC has a current capacity of 137 inmates: 58 male and 20 females in the Work Release Component and 59 male inmates in the Residential Substance Abuse Unit/ RSAT. Inmates assigned to BCC must be within 18 months of their parole eligibility date or discharge, for the Work Release Component and/or within 24 months if in the RSAT Unit, and must be classified as a Level I or II minimum security. The RSAT Unit is on a volunteer basis and is a very structured program. It consists of 4 phases. The first phase is the entry level inmate. When the 4th phase is completed the offender becomes eligible to transfer to the Work Release Program.

The facility consists of five buildings:

- Building 1-Offices, kitchen, dining room, multi-purpose room and living quarters for 50 inmates
- Building 2-Living quarters for 8 male inmates
- Building 3-Living quarters for 20 female inmates
- Building 4-Storage
- 4th floor D-wing, Jackie Withrow Hospital-RSAT Unit-Living quarters for 59 male inmates, multi purpose room, and offices.

All BCC Inmates must participate in treatment and programming. Programs available at BCC are: Adult Basic Education, Crime Victim Awareness, Substance Abuse Treatment, Batterers Intervention Prevention, Anger management, Domestic Violence, RSAT and RSAT aftercare program.

Inmates are required to work assigned jobs while at the facility as well as perform a minimum of 80 hours of community service work. BCC provides community service to the following agencies / organizations: Beckley Public Works Department, WV State Police Headquarters, WV Department of Highways, Raleigh County Humane Society, and the Salvation Army to name a few. Upon completion of community service and release from facility employment, inmates that are work release status obtain employment within the community in a variety of fields such as Department of Highways, construction, service industry, and retail sales. Work Release status inmates also earn passes and overnight furloughs to immediate family members based on behavior, history and approval of officials in prospective furloughing counties. Inmates out in the community are monitored by BCC staff through random telephone calls, employment evaluations, visual employment checks, furlough visits and random drug/alcohol testing.

Charleston Work/Study Release Center

Jeff Stinnett, Administrator

The Charleston Work/Study Release Center (CWRC) was established in October of 1972, with the assistance of a Federal Grant. At that time, the facility was considered an extension of Huttonsville Correctional Center and was one of the first such facilities to open nationwide under this pilot project. The Center housed twenty-five male inmates that were carefully selected from Huttonsville Correctional Center.

The current two-story brick structure can house up to sixty-six inmates, both male and female. It is designed to be versatile to house specific inmate gender needs. The mission of the Charleston Work Release Center is to encourage responsible behavior and assist inmates in their transition back to the community, while ensuring public safety is not compromised. This is accomplished through positive staff mentoring, encouraging fiscal responsibility, continuing substance abuse treatment, restoration of community/family ties, and emphasizing personal responsibility.

Public Safety is taken very seriously by the staff at CWRC. Inmates are monitored for program compliance, tested for alcohol/drug use and supervised while in the community through random phone calls, supervisor evaluations, and unannounced staff visits to their jobs/furlough locations. In addition to furloughs into the community for employment, inmates are also eligible for overnight furloughs to immediate family members if they meet certain criteria. Charleston Work Release Center inmates also gave back to the community in many ways this past year through various community service projects. They picked up litter along highways, helped out at the local animal shelter, and donated many hours with the Christian group World Changers repairing and improving homes for the underprivileged and elderly in the Charleston area.

Charleston Work Release Center is continuing to evolve to meet the needs of society. The drug problem continues to grow in our state and prison overcrowding is a major issue. CWRC is preparing to counter these problems by procuring a larger building to expand the work release program and to add a substance abuse treatment component to the facility. A Substance Abuse Counselor, Correctional Counselor, and additional Case Manager have been added and have been attending specialized training in preparation for the opening of this unit. The increase in size and addition of the treatment unit will ensure that CWRC is maximizing their efforts towards successful offender reentry and giving inmates the tools and skills necessary to cope once they are released back into the community.

Denmar Correctional Center

Mark Williamson, Warden

The Denmar Correctional Center (DCC) is located in the hills of Pocahontas County. The facility was opened in 1919 and used through 1957 as a tuberculosis center for African Americans. In 1957 the tuberculosis center was transformed into a hospital for the chronically ill. In February 1993, the Pocahontas County Commission conveyed the deed for the former Denmar Hospital to the West Virginia Division of Corrections for conversion to a state Correctional Facility.

The medium security prison currently houses 216 adult males and employs approximately 89 people. Inmates are housed in two and four-man rooms. DCC incorporates the Unit Management concept, providing a balance between punishment and rehabilitation for inmates housed at the facility. Denmar offers various work programs including Outside Road Crews, Correctional Industries, Laundry, Maintenance Crews, Kitchen and many more, as well as counseling, education, recreation, etc. to the inmate population.

This fiscal year new windows were installed throughout the facility, as well as additional security cameras. New benches were added throughout the recreation yard.

Various programs are offered to include: Aladrué, AA/NA, Sex Offender Programming (SOP), group and individual counseling, as well as other programs designed to address social skills deficits, impulse control, establish a sober, legitimate lifestyle, and facilitate an effective return to society. Denmar also offers V.O.C.A.L. (Violent Offenders Counseling and Learning) program designed to target youths in the community.

Staff and offenders make presentations to school youth, church groups, etc., on the effects of drugs and alcohol and about proper decision-making. Denmar was also audited by the WV Coalition Against Domestic Violence. The results of the audit allowed Denmar and other DOC facilities to continue being licensed to deliver the BIPPS Program. Case Manager Delores Morgan was formally recognized by the DOC for her efforts in obtaining this licensure. Through the West Virginia Department of Education, inmates are provided the opportunity to learn computer skills, attend transition classes (Cognitive Skills I, II, III), GED course work and vocational training in the form of Industrial Electrical, Facilities Maintenance, and an 80 Hour Underground Mining Course, further developing and enhancing their academic and employability skills. The Education Department received Correctional Education Association (CEA) Accreditation this year.

Huntington Work/Study Release Center

Rena Stubblefield, Administrator

The Huntington Work Release Center (HWRC) is sixty-six (66) bed community based co-ed correctional facility conveniently located in the heart of downtown Huntington. The facility's primary objective is two-fold: Ensuring public safety while assisting inmates in making a successful transition from incarceration to the community. This goal is accomplished by providing offenders with work programs, educational, and vocational resource opportunities within the community during incarceration.

One of HWRC's major focal point's is placed on the provision of essential resource tools for a successful transition for the inmates into society. While maintaining that focus, a new one has been added in improving facility operations this fiscal year. To that end, electronic banking services for the inmates has been implemented with Tech Friends Inc. Utilizing this service has provided HWRC with improved efficiency with regards to inmate banking and the accounting system. In addition to electronic banking services, HWRC has partnered with Global Tel Link Corporation. Global Tel Link installed an integrated telephone system that enables the facility to record and monitor inmate's telephone activities. It also allows the inmates to conveniently purchase prepaid calling cards.

Due to these technology upgrades, HWRC has impeded drug trafficking, credit card scams and purchases, confiscated cell phones and other contraband, thereby creating a safer correctional environment for staff and the surrounding community. Not only has operations improved, but $2,026.00 in commissions has been allotted to HWRC, to assist with facility operating costs. These accomplishments for fiscal year 2011, have not only improved facility operations, but have also created two significant historical moments at the Huntington Work Release Center.

Huttonsville Correctional Center

Adrian Hoke, Warden

The Huttonsville Correctional Center (HCC) was opened in 1939 and is the oldest facility in the state. It has the largest inmate population of 1,138 inmates and employs 383 staff members. Huttonsville Correctional Center is the fifth largest employer in Randolph County.

Inmates at the Huttonsville Correctional Center consist of Classification Levels from level I (Minimum Custody) to level V (Maximum Custody). Huttonsville has the most diverse population in the state by housing general population, segregation inmates, inmates who work out in the community and a residential substance abuse treatment unit. This unit is also known as the “Therapeutic Community” which consists of 80 plus beds for inmates who express a sincere desire for substance abuse rehabilitation. In this unit, the criminogenic thinking pattern on the criminal mentality is the focus of attention. Emphasis is placed on cognitive restructuring as a means to modify behavior, utilizing the power of education through social learning. Inmates live in this program intensive environment for a period of 9-12 months.

There are many educational programs, both vocational and academic, offered to the inmates by the State Department of Education. Prison Industries operates the Braille Program and the furniture plant is located at this facility. Prison Industries affords employment to a large number of inmates.

Huttonsville Correctional Center is the home of the West Virginia Division of Corrections K-9 Training Center. The training center conducts all training for the WVDOC K-9 unit and currently runs two classes each year. The Patrol section functions are crowd control, tracking and protection. German Shepherds are used exclusively for the Patrol Unit. The Controlled Dangerous Substance (CDS) canines are trained to find controlled narcotics and are used to search people, vehicles, mail and visitors entering DOC property. Detector canines are trained to locate cell phones and tobacco within DOC facilities. CDS and Detector canines are primarily Labrador and Golden Retrievers.

Huttonsville Correctional Center received American Correctional Association (ACA) accreditation during this fiscal year. HCC was 100% compliant with the mandatory standards and 99.77% compliant with the non mandatory standards. A reception was held in April to recognize this achievement for the “oldest” DOC institution in WV. This accomplishment was the result of all the staff’s hard work and team effort.

Lakin Correctional Center

Lori Nohe, Warden

Lakin Correctional Center (LCC), located six miles north of Point Pleasant on WV Route 62, is a multi-security correctional facility and is the only all-female prison in the state. LCC has a current capacity of 462 inmates.

The Department of Education provides many educational and vocational programs for the inmate population such as ABE/GED, Life Skills, Business Education, Culinary Arts, Facilities Maintenance and Horticulture/Landscaping. This fiscal year the Department of Education, has implemented a Cosmetology Program. This two year course will offer offenders the opportunity to become certified in Cosmetology upon their completion.

Correctional Industries operates a garment, sewing and embroidery factory and manufactures inmate clothing, linens and office chairs. Other programs offered to inmates include the Residential Substance Abuse Treatment Program (RSAT), Narcotics Anonymous, Alcoholics Anonymous, Helping Women Recover, A Woman's Way through the Twelve Steps and Aladrué I & II as well as various recreational activities offered by the Recreation Department and various religious programs and services.

LCC has entered into a partnership with Paws 4-People which has established a training program for service dogs to include both juvenile and adult recipients. These dogs are trained for a range of disabilities to include Post Traumatic Stress Disorder for our returning veterans.

LCC was able to meet the budget of fiscal year 2011 due to all staff working together as a team to decrease the overtime and by closely monitoring spending throughout the fiscal year. This facility has met their budget consistently since opening in 2003.

In September 2011, Lakin Correctional Center established a Wall of Honor to recognize the accomplishments of our staff. Also a victims garden was completed during this fiscal year. It was developed by the LCC Crime Victims Service Committee and constructed by the inmates with items purchased with generous inmate donations.

LCC has enjoyed multiple accomplishments during this past fiscal year.

Martinsburg Correctional Center

Scott Paugh, Warden

The Martinsburg Correctional Center (MCC) serves as a 120 bed intake/classification facility within the West Virginia DOC. During FY11, a total of 786 inmates were brought in from the state's regional jails and classified before being transferred to other state prisons. This classification process involves intensive testing and interviews, an educational component, psychological evaluations, a review of the inmate's institutional history, medical needs, and development of a home plan for use upon release. Personnel from our facility also occasionally traveled to Potomac Highlands Regional Jail and Eastern Regional Jail to begin the testing/classification procedures on inmates while still in Regional Jail custody.

During the fall of 2010, after a failure of one of the units, several 20 year old HVAC systems were replaced. Although the cost for this project was approximately $30,000.00, the fact that the new units are much more energy efficient should help recoup the cost over the long run. Several other capital improvement needs are being prioritized for future development as funds become available.

The facility is currently developing a new strategic plan to cover the next three years. The components of this plan are aimed at improving efficiency, staff recruitment and retention, and long term cost savings. Additionally, in the spring of 2011, the National Commission on Correctional Health Care (NCCHC) re-accredited the Martinsburg Correctional Center for a three year period, after an audit confirmed that the facility was 100% compliant with NCCHC standards.

The Martinsburg Correctional Center is currently in the middle of a three year accreditation period with the American Correctional Association. A recent internal DOC audit determined that the facility remained in compliance. The facility looks forward to the re-accreditation audit which will occur sometime in the fall of 2012.

McDowell County Correctional Center

Dennis Dingus, Warden

McDowell County Correctional Center remains the only county owned facility in the state of West Virginia. Owned by the McDowell County Economic Development Authority and operated by the McDowell County Commission, the facility contracts with the West Virginia Division of Corrections to house state medium security inmates. Located along US Rt. 52, the correctional center is housed in the renovated Stevens Clinic Hospital, which closed its doors in the mid-eighties, after coal operations ceased in the county resulting in a decline in the population.

McDowell County Correctional Center houses 322 state inmates in a medium security facility. It offers the inmates a full time educational department along with other rehabilitation classes taught within the facility. The inmate educational program has expanded substantially in the past year. At the 66th Annual Correctional Education Association Conference, McDowell Correctional was recognized for the attainment of excellence in the operation of educational programs in correctional settings. The education department was audited on June 20, 2011 by the CEA standards committee. The standards are designed to ensure quality programs to incarcerated individuals. McDowell County Correctional attained 100% compliance during the audit and received accreditation and has entered into a three year accreditation cycle to monitor continued success.

This past year McDowell Correctional Center has seen an expansion in both staff and inmate training and education. The new training room for staff is equipped with 10 computer stations that have the Learning Management System installed on each computer, which is the training software used by the WVDOC. With this system, the training and orientating new employees and offering yearly in-service training to existing employees, will result in savings in operational costs for the facility. The training facility also has a new smart board, making presentation of the training materials easily visible to trainees. It also allows the security cameras operating within the facility to be viewed on the larger image board.

Mount Olive Correctional Complex

David Ballard, Warden

Built as a replacement for the Civil War-era West Virginia Penitentiary at Moundsville, Mount Olive Correctional Complex (MOCC) is located seven miles east of Montgomery on Cannelton Hollow Road in Fayette County. MOCC is a maximum-security correctional facility and has a current capacity of 1,030 inmates.

The facility is encompassed by a secure perimeter fence approximately one mile long. Of the 120 acre site, approximately 80 acres are inside the secure perimeter. Extensive use is made of both electronic and manual security controls. MOCC operates as a small town, having its own post office and ZIP code, power plant, electrical sub-station, fuel depot, water supply, central warehouse, maintenance garage, hospital and medical clinic, gymnasium, chapel, library, classrooms, courtroom, food service and laundry facilities.

In September 2010, MOCC underwent an intensive re-accreditation audit by the American Correctional Association. Auditors from Louisiana, Ohio and Florida spent three days at MOCC examining policy, procedures and interacting with staff and inmates. MOCC was found to be in 100% compliance with mandatory national standards and 99.55% compliance with non-mandatory national standards and was granted ACA re-accreditation.

In June 2011, Tim Grigsby was selected as Teacher of the Year. This was the first time a vocational teacher received this honor. Mr. Grigsby was recognized at the National CEA Conference in July 2011. The Education Department also received a modernization grant for their welding program for the third time in a row.

MOCC once again participated in Operation Reachout and helped raise more than $5000.00 for this annual event. Operation Reachout is an event that supports victim services organizations. MOCC partners with other entities to raise awareness for victims of crime in addition to raising money for this worthwhile cause.

Slayton Work Camp

The Slayton Work Camp (SWC) is a 48-bed minimum-security unit situated on the grounds of the Mount Olive Correctional Complex (MOCC), operating as its own entity outside the secure perimeter and administered by MOCC. Inmates assigned to the Slayton Work Camp hold an appropriate security classification, are non-violent and are deemed low-risk to the community. These inmates are provided, under Correctional Officer supervision, to the Division of Highways for various labor projects in Clay, Fayette, Kanawha, Nicholas and Raleigh Counties. These inmates also provide labor and community service to various agencies/charitable organizations throughout the local area. Inmates at SWC contributed 73,490 hours of labor to community service during this fiscal year.

Northern Correctional Center

Evelyn Seifert, Warden

The Northern Correctional Center (NCC) is a Level V (Maximum Security) Correctional Facility within the West Virginia Division of Corrections and has the primary purpose of providing a safe, secure, and humane environment for the public, staff, and inmate population; improve the delivery of correctional services to victims; while being responsive to the needs of the inmates and concerns of staff.

The Northern Correctional Center and Northern Regional Jail are housed in the combined Northern Regional Jail and Correctional Center in Moundsville. NCC employs approximately 127 people. The facility is the only one of its combined nature in West Virginia. It was dedicated in August 1994.

The inmate population is solely comprised of adult male felons. NCC operates under the unit management philosophy, wherein inmate housing pods are divided into separate units. Each unit has an assigned team of treatment and security staff who are under the general supervision of a Unit Manager.

Northern Correctional Center (NCC) employees are committed to maintaining excellent standards of operation and rehabilitation as demonstrated by American Correctional Association accreditation. In addition, the Education Department has been accredited by the Correctional Education Association and PrintEd. Medical Services has been accredited by the National Commission of Correctional Health Care.

Northern Correctional Center (NCC) is actively involved in the community. The Victims' Services Committee participated in seven events and raised $1,900.00. Some of the events consisted of a walk for Domestic Violence Month, Christmas parties for two local Children's Homes and they joined other agencies in Marshall County to place pinwheels throughout the community for Child Abuse Awareness Month.

Ohio County Correctional Center

William Yurcina, Administrator

The Ohio County Correctional Center (OCCC) is located in Wheeling, WV. It currently operates as a minimum security institution for 66 adult male offenders. The centers primary function is to focus on the rehabilitation of male technical parole violators. OCCC opened in 1998, when the West Virginia Division of Corrections began leasing the old Ohio County Jail (built in 1974) for the purpose of housing female offenders. During the next five years, the facility supervised female offenders with varying classification levels to include segregation and Behavior Improvement Unit status offenders. The facility continued with this mission until the opening of the Lakin Correctional Center for Women in 2003, at which time it became an all male facility.

The facility offers a wide variety of job opportunities inside and outside of the facility (supervised Community Service Crews). It also provides needed programs such as Education, Transitional Skills/Computer based classes, Drug and Alcohol treatment programs, Crime Victim Awareness and Anger Management Classes.

During the past year, not only was OCCC able to continue its ongoing and successful mission, it was able to continue many of its community service commitments to numerous volunteer projects (Wheeling Jesuit University, Community Garden for the Wheeling Soup Kitchen, Annual Wheeling area cleanup and the Stern Wheel festival). Inmates provided 97,672 community service hours to the surrounding communities during this fiscal year.

Pruntytown Correctional Center

Debra Minnix, Warden

The Pruntytown Correctional Center (PCC) was originally established as the West Virginia Industrial School for Boys in 1891 and served as a juvenile facility until being closed in January of 1983. Pruntytown reopened in 1985, housing minimum custody adult male inmates whose primary work function was to renovate the facility. In 1988, 32 adult female inmates were moved to Pruntytown, making it the state's first adult co-ed correctional facility.

Pruntytown now houses 369 minimum and medium security adult male inmates who are within 36 months of possible release through parole or discharge. PCC continues to provide community service hours to state parks, farm commission, local churches, county commissions, and various state agencies. This year the inmate population completed 160,875 hours of community service.

Pruntytown Correctional Center was the genesis of the Facility Character Profile process this year. This process began with a staff survey which led to the disclosure of issues that staff felt needed explored and specific areas that might be improved. The process continues with staff volunteers comprising culture change teams, who armed with insight, innovative thinking, and creative problem solving are creating a new future for our facility. Our staff also contributed to the community this year by donating 19 units of blood at our annual Red Cross Blood Drive in June; donating several boxes of toys to Christmas at Tygart Lake Lodge in December; collecting personal care items for veterans admitted to the VA Medical Center in Clarksburg, WV throughout the year; and conducting community awareness activities during Domestic Violence and Crime Victim Awareness Months.

Staff was honored for their contributions during Public Service Recognition Week. They were served breakfast or lunch by the Administrative Team, given a small token gift and received certificates for five year increments of service. Other staff who received special recognitions during the year included PCC's Employee of the Year, Cpl. Stephanie Barthelemy. OIEP Teacher of the Year, Donna Morgan; CEA Region II Teacher of the Year, Shawn Rubenstein; and PCC Marksman of the Year, Correctional Officer Steven Phillips.

St. Mary's Correctional Center

William Fox, Warden

Saint Mary's Correctional Center (SMCC) is located three miles north of Saint Mary's on State Route 2 in Pleasants County. It was formerly known as the Colin Anderson Center which was established in 1932. The Colin Anderson Center was closed in 1998, at which time funding was provided by the WV Legislature to renovate the facility to the standards required to function as a correctional facility.

In the early spring of 1998, the West Virginia Division of Corrections began the transition to house approximately 450 adult male, minimum to medium security inmates at this facility. In addition to the general population of offenders, the targeted population includes aging, geriatric, special needs and chronic medical offenders with lower custody classification. At this time the total population for SMCC has increased to 554.

During this fiscal year, SMCC was able to complete all sidewalks of the internal grounds ensuring they were compliant with the American Disabilities Act. The inmate weight lifting area was completed also with a second pad designed to accommodate the handicapped inmate population.

SMCC's Education Department was recognized for the attainment of excellence in the operation of educational programs offered at the facility, by the Correctional Education Association. This recognition resulted from the successful culmination of efforts and teamwork by the education staff and the corrections staff.

SMCC has 234 personnel on site that are state employees. Other staff are employed and under the direct supervision of the WV Department of Education, Wexford Medical Services, and Keefe Commissary Network.

Chart 8: Parole Services Caseloads by County on June 30, 2011.

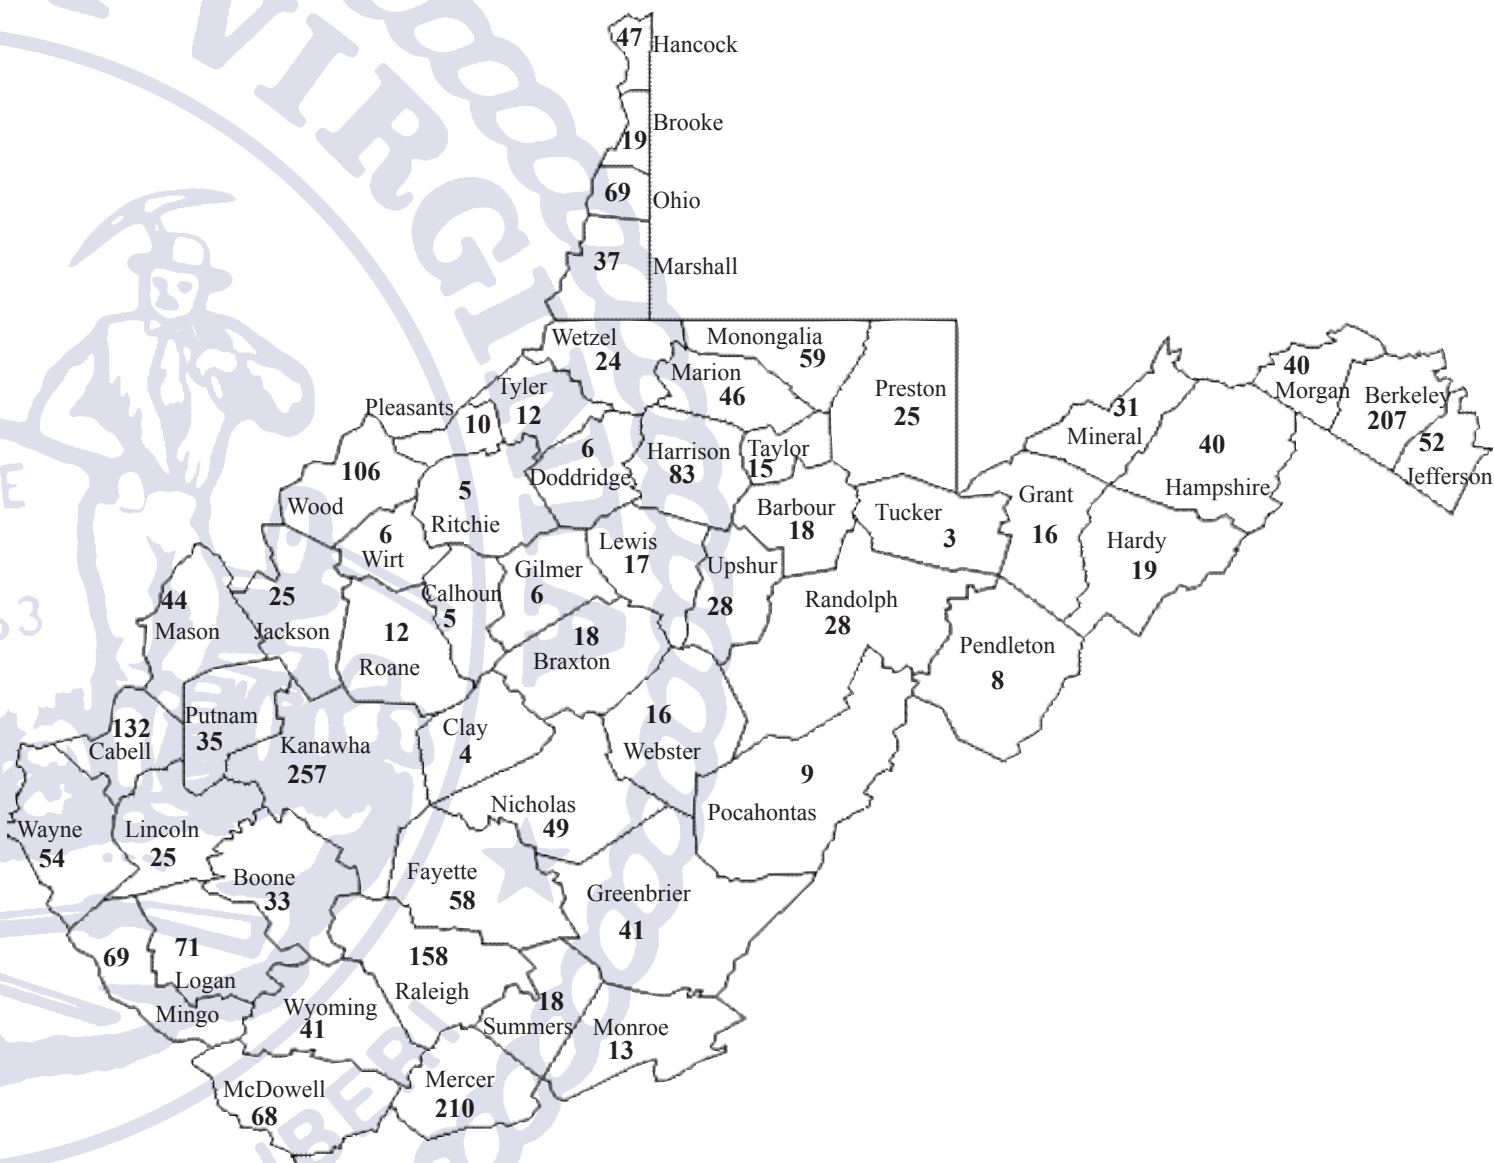

Chart 8 shows the number of clients supervised by Parole Services, by county at the end of FY 2011. Kanawha County had the highest case load, followed by Mercer, Berkeley, Raleigh, and Cabell Counties. Some reasons for these high numbers are the fact that Kanawha, Cabell, and Raleigh have high populations compared to the rest of the state, while Berkeley and Mercer border other states and supervise a large number of interstate compact cases.
